If Statesmen were worth any thing in the world the question would be actitled. Let the Predent book to it when he held the power in his own hands flas then would be the responsibility. Let han because and act as a President of the United State—as a just man. If he plunged the country needlessly into a war, the tault would be his, and terrible would be the responsibility.

Mr. C. argued that the question was not one in which national binors was at all involved. It was but a question of property, and no more, and ought to be settled as easily and as peacefully as any question of rengtheorhood priween parties in dispute.

Mr. C. comingined with great power upon the consequences of war, without depicting its horrors. It was read boasifely, but truly, that the sun sever sets upon British Dominions. So the san would never set upon the the set of the twenty-four hours would find it going on wherever the sun rolled and the sea flowed.

The cost of war no man could well compute. We had had a war of seven years, which left us hely burdased with debt. The Senator from South Grown, and the Cabottou, which would be the price of a war. With the capacity of this two nations to carry on a war, no one could tell where it would end. Mr. Crittenden gave a brilliant and happy picture of the process of the growth of the nation. Mr. Crittenden gave a find the country peopled with other gave a glowing picture of the process of the growth of the nation. Mr. Crittenden siso gave an account of his mission to New York, that the General Government Ladmertered with New York during the trial of McLeod.

Mr. Crittenden closed with a defence of his own resolution.

Mr. Crittenden closed with a defence of his own resolution.

Mr Allen then moved to take up the House re

Mr. Johnson of Md., then moved the preamble and resolutions of Mr. Crittenden, inserting the world "amicable" before "settlement."

Mr. Allen moved to amend the preamble by atriking out what was inserted and copying an estract from the message, that the time had come when it was necessary to maintain our just rights to the ter-

Mr. Pennybacker of Va., then defined his position going for compromise, but prefering the House resolu-tions to those of Mr. Crittenden.

A posteript to the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, of the 16th, furnishes the subjoined intelligence from China, received by the Rainbow, Capt. Land, from

Canton:—

Important News from Carrons—Hono Kono, Jan. 28—We have been favored with the perusal of a letter from the provincial city dated the 14th. It states that a chop has been issued amouncing that the city will be opened to foreigners, the indemnity money paid, and Chusan evacuated immediately.

The lower orders octime opposed to opening the gates of the city, and the more respectable class are eager in their inclaime as to the intentions of Sir John Davis in the event of riot or disrurbance.

Hono Kono, Jan. 21.—For two or three days some John Davis in the event of riot or disrurbance.

Hoxa Koxo, Jan. 21.—For two or three days some apprehension has been felt for the safety of the foreign factories in Canton, but by the late advices the excitent among the mob had subsided, and from the large naval force now near the City, and the large body of Tartar troops said to have been marched into the city itself, it is not orobable that the mob will proceed to extremities. The hossility to foreigners is however unabated.

Wishin the city there was a riot on the 15th. Captain Land brings out the ratified treaty, and has on board the letter bags from the U. S. Squadron in China.

The following statement, says the National Intelligencer, which we find in the regular Washington Correspondence of the New York Trobuse, agree substantially with what we have heard related here ton Correspondence of the New York Trönne, agrees substantially with what we have heard related here, and have reason to believe correct:

"When Mr. Wessten left the State Department, in place of being a defaulter as has been charged, it appears that there was a balance paid over to him long after he left. When Mr. Websster left Mr. Tyler's Cabinet he requested the Christopher left Mr. Tyler's Cabinet he requested the Christopher left Mr. Other of the contingent land, to settle up the account and see how it stood. The clerk wrose to Mr. Websster that there was the sum of $1,000 for which there was no voncher. Mr. Webster mid the proper woucher would yet be found, but it he mean time he wished the accounts of the Department fully settled up, and for this purpose he sent on $1,000, and the accounts were settled. The proper certificate afterwards appearing, the thousand dollars were refunded to Mr. Webster. So that, in place of being a defaulter, he had actually overpaid the Department, and this overpay was refunded.

The bill was considered and adopted in committee of the whole, and afterwards adopted by the House.

of the whole, and afterwards adopted by the House.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

After some disconsion as to what was the order of the day, the bill to organize District Courts in the State, was taken up at its third reading and passed. The House then took up the act to establish Justices of the Peace in and for the Parish of Orleans. A resolution from the Eseasts to make the French and English texts agree in the bill to compensate the third that the support of the text of the Peace of the Compensation, was taken up, shown to be in the language of Mr. Olivier da Français de Cussiae, and summarily rejected.

Olivier da Français de Cuisine, and summarily rejected.

The House then resumed the consideration of the full relative to Justices of the Feare. The first necessary results of the tendent provides that six Justices of the Peace shall be elected for the Parish of Orleans at the time of the election.—Adopted.

The second section distributes the several Justices of the Peace as follows: Two to reside in the Second Municipality; two in the First; one in the Third, and one in Algiers.

Mr. Killy moved a substitute providing that the Justices should be chosen by representative districts. This was opposed by Messure. Ogden. Farrar and others as unconstitutional. After a very long discussion, the House adjourned without taking the vote.
