seen one of the officers who gave me the following information.

When the Porpoise left Tampico the frigates Raritan and Potomac, steamer Princeton, and sloop of the steamer St. Mary's, were all anchored outside of the berwill will be steamer and Potomac, steamer Princeton, and sloop of the while all our small crafts were inside of the river. A detachment of 600 troops had arrived from Gen. Patterson's command, and many more expected. The steamer Monnouth had been at Tampico twice with troops from Brazos or Point Isabel.

Capt. Tatnall, with the steamer Spittire, had gone up the river 60 or 70 miles from Tampico, and isaben possession of two towns, at one of which he captured ten large cannon, and a beavy quantity of amnumition, which had been removed from Tampico when the Weisens retreated from that place. The two regiments which evacuated Tampico revolted when they got to St. Louis Potosi, and were disbanded—tions prevailed at St. Louis Potosi—army about 16,000, and in a state of starvation; four different factions among them, as follows: Santa Anna, Arista, Herrera and Parades.

The recent election in Mexico was much in favor of ex-President Herrera, who it was generally believed at Tampico would be the President.

Mrs. Chase, the Ametican Consul's lady) at Tampico, has behaved most nobly, and shows to the world slie was a patriot under all circumstances. When our small vessels were about to approach the town of Tampico, slie ran up our ring in defiance of the slied de and other civil officers, and told them they had better be quiet; that our Government had, then on the march for that place an immense force, &c., &c.—Some time before Mrs. Chase wrote to Cora. Couner informing him how the place could be taken, and at the same time gave him a draft of the town and harbor.

The Porpoise will fill up with water and provision, and leave as soon as possible. Yours, &c.

P. S.—In the body of this letter I neglected to notice that Com'r lugraham, formerly of the Somers, came a passenger in the Porpoise, and is bearer of despatiches for Washington. He is unwell, and may not be able to proceed for a day or two. Capt. Baker of the steamer Maninouth, from Santiago, has always furnished the Pic with some hasty memoranda from which we extract the follow ing, communicated to Capt. B. by Mr. Daunoy, one of the passengers:

On the 6th Nov. arrived at Monclova. found Gen. Wool and army encamped, his army in fine condition, remained at Monclova until the 14th, then started with an excert with despatches for Gen. Mr. Daanoy thinks that Gen Wool and Army are now at Salitilo. He (Mr. D.) left Monterey on the 19th ult. Eleven miles from Monterey meta train of sixty wagons, eccored by lour companies, having two long 13-pounders. Dr. Wawkins along with the train

The best bower anchor was got out and let go, and paid out chain to the end, but finding that she still drifted, a second anchor was let go, when she brought up, and rode head to the sea and wind about one hour, the storm increasing all the time. The clasins were slipped, and an attempt made to stand off with her, until at day-break on the morning of the 25th, they found themselves off the bar of Tampico, when they cut away the upper deck and mainmass, and got her before the wind.—Finding her coal nearly gone, Captain Rollins smood in for Tampico bar. At 8 o'clock A. M., she struck aground on the head of the bar, where she remained four hours, with the sea making a complete breach over. At 12 o'clock M. of the same day, she hilged and commenced breaking to pieces. At 4 o'clock P. M., the United States steamer Spitzer, Capt. Tarvall., sent boats to the assistance of the Neptune, and rescued the crew from their perilous situation. The next morning she was a perfect wreck with nothing to be seen but part of her hull and engine.

But the resting from Hayti.

By the arrival of the schr. Mary Wikes, FOLUER from Port au Prince, we have been put in possession of papers from Hayti to a late date. We are indebted to the politices of Captain FOLUER, for a copy of the New Constitution of the Republic of Hayti, promitented the 14th November lass. It is a decoupen the New Constitution of the Republic of Hayti, premulgared the 14th November last. It is a document of some interest. The Constitution is preceded by an address to the people of Hayti setting forth the condition of disorder and anarchy in which they were plunged until the consummation of the last revolution under the auspices of Gen. Ricuz. Having restored peace and tranquility to the Country, Gen. Richa was elevated to the Chief Magistracy by the spoutaneous acclamations of the citizens. He immediately resolved to restore the Constitution of 1816, together with such modifications and improvements as the progress of liberal opinions seemed to require. In this important work the Senate of the Republic ciopsrated with him, and the present Constitution is the fruit of their joint labor.

We have looked over this transcript of the organic law of Hayti with some curiosity. The leading features appear to resemble those of the Constitution of Mexico. The President is chosen for life by a vote of two-thirds of the Senate. That body in its term is Mexico. The President is chosen for life by a vote of two-thirds of the Senate. That body in its turn is elected by the House of Representatives, and its functions last nine years. The members of the House are elected by the people, the right of suffrage being exabilished on an extremely liberal basis. To be a Senator or Representative a certain age and a property qualification are necessary. The Roman Catholic worship is proclaimed as the religion of the Country. The Sommire Gas.—A few days since a railroad accident occurred at Wenham, Mass., in which a young Irish girl was so much injured as to render uccessary the amputation of an arm. The Salem Register mays:

"The operation was performed by Dr. Pierson accompanied by Dr. Fish, who administered to the sufferer, with perfect success, the new preparation lately made known by Dr. Charles T Jackson and Dr Morton, Denties of Boston, the inhalation of which produces insensibility to the pain of Sutgical operations. The unconsciousness of the girl continued undistarted until near the close of the dreawing, when she simply inquired what they were doing, but with another inhalation, immediately pleapsed into insensibility, and, upone couling to hernell, supposed she had been dreawing."
