triumph by a majority approximating that by which she overthrew locofocoism last April.

Third District.—In this District neither party has vet made a regular nomination. On the Locofoco side some of the parishes were represented in a sort of caucus held a week or twelf ago, at which it was decided to postpone the consideration of nominating a candidate to a future day—some time in September, we believe. Meanwhile, Mr. Harmanson is striving desperately to secure the nomination, if he can persuade his party that a certain vote of censure on General Taylor will not injure his prospects; or that the democratic majority in the District is too heavy to be overcome, even by the crushing influence of that vote.
