Gen. Scott and the Third Municipality Council.

The papers generally in reporting the proceedings of the Third Municipality Council on Monday night, state that a resolution introduced by Mr. Solomon, for the appointment of a Committee to unite with the First and Second Municipalities in making preparations for the reception of Gen. Scott, lies over for future action. We are assured by a responsible gentleman who was present at the deliberations of the Council, that this statement is erroneous and that to the astonishment and mortification of every true-hearted American, the resolution was lost by a vote of 5 in the affirmative to 6 in the negative. We have no reason to doubt the accuracy of our information, and we must say that a more unpatriotic and discreditable procedure has seldom characterized even a Locofoco board of Aldermen.

It so happens that the majority of the Council of the Third Municipality are violent democratic partisans, but we should scarcely have conceived them capable of an act of such transparent folly and such disgraceful Locofoco jealousy, as to refuse to extend the hospitalities of the quarter of the city which they represent, to the victorious Commander of our Armies, simply because he is a Whig. And yet, to what other motive can the conduct of the majority be ascribed?

We have some hopes that Major General Winfield Scott may not be annihilated by this demonstration—that he may survive the hostility of the Democratic Aldermen of the Third Municipality; and we indulge a faint expectation that the unanimous and enthusiastic resolve of the Councils of the First and Second Municipalities to receive him with the honors and ceremonies due to his illustrious fame and his heroic exploits, he may derive some consolation for the churlish illiberality and mousing jealousy displayed towards him by the authorities of a portion of our city, which, it is somewhat doubtful he has ever heard of, and which probably hereafter he will never care to be-[illegible]

☞ There seems to have been some sort of a partnership between Mr Cassius M. Clay and Uncle Sam, the exact character of which we are not able to define. The business, whatever it was, appears to have been a losing one, and Cassius wishes to withdraw, and to be paid by the other partner for the stock in trade which he contributed, and which it would seem had been sunk. Dogberry says of himself "I am a wise fellow; and, which is more, an officer; and, which is more, a householder; and, which is more, as pretty a piece of flesh as any is in Messina; and one that knows the law, go to; and a rich fellow enough, go to; and a fellow that hath had losses; and one that hath two gowns, and every thing handsome about him." All this, Cassius can also say, except that about the two gowns. He had them indeed, but alas! he hath them no longer. He generously gives up, however, all claim to the value of two Sil-[illegible], which most unluckily got smashed. This noble forbearance was casually mentioned yesterday morning, at the lower market, by a respectable colored gentleman to a knot of his friends, while they were sipping their coffee, and we are credibly informed that last evening, thirteen banjoes were brought in and left subject to his order, as a testimony of the respect and commiseration of the owners. None of them are a good deal dilapidated it is true, but the fact is not the less creditable to the parties concerned.

Illinois.—By the returns from South Illinois it is now rendered certain, say the Chicago papers, "that free negroes are prohibited from coming into that State," or, in other words, they have adopted the "black laws" of Ohio. The majority on the Constitution is from thirty to forty thousand. The two mill tax is adopted, which is of immense importance to the credit of Illinois.

Cincinnati Election.—The Charter Election in Cincinnati on the 3d, resulted in the election of seven Whigs and two Locofocos to the City Council.

Florida.—The Locofoco State Convention of Florida, has made the following nominations:

For Governor—Gen. Wm Bailey. For Congress, Hon. Wm. P Duval. For Electors, Col. John Milton, of Jackson; Gen. C H Dupont, of Gadsden, and G R Fairbanks, of St. Johns.

The Florida Whig, says

This ticket suited, it seems, to the taste of the Democracy, is also precisely to the liking of the Whigs. They have given us men to battle against with so many vulnerable points, that the staff cannot fly amiss, if each was gifted with the shield of an Ajax, it would not serve him for protection.

Military.—Gen. James Shields was to leave Washington on Sunday last for Mexico. It is understood [illegible] he is appointed Governor and Commander at Tampico.

Col. John Garland is now at Washington, but is to leave for Missouri, to take command of the third military departments, where the movements of the Indians have been such as to induce the government to take measures to keep them in check.

French Spoliations.—Both the Senate and Assembly of the State of New York have passed a resolution urging Congress to do justice to the long neglected claimants. It will be recollected that the law was passed last year and vetoed by the President.

The Mayor of New Orleans.—Information having reached here on Saturday, says the Mobile Advertiser, that his Honor, the Mayor of New Orleans, would visit our city to witness the ceremonies of the Fire Department to-day, a special meeting of the boards of Aldermen and Common Council was held on Saturday evening, in obedience to a call from the Mayor, at which preparations were made to give Mr. Crossman such a reception as is due to the station he occupies and so worthily fills, and the intimate relations, commercial and social, that exist between New Orleans and Mobile. The Chief Magistrate of New Orleans will be cordially and heartily welcomed to Mobile.

The French Trade.—A New York letter of the evening of the 1st inst. says:

Some of the leading French houses, De Rham & Moore, Pilotte & Le Barbierre, &c., have made arrangements and discounted all their paper maturing in April, and have also negotiated for funds in London, to prevent embarrassment on the other side. This has produced a better feeling in the street. The paper was retailed at 2 per cent per month.

Terrible Death from Asphyxia.—On the morning of the 2d inst., in Philadelphia, Mr. Joseph Ritchie, proprietor of an extensive vinegar establishment, situated at the corner of Third and Noble streets, was awakened early this morning by the sound of groans and cries in the premises. He instantly arose, and on searching his vats found a colored man in one of them. In endeavoring to assist the unfortunate man out, being stifled with the noxious effluvia, or gas, rising from the fluid, himself fell in, and in that situation both perished.

Mr. Isnard, the French Consul in Boston for New England, retains his appointment under the provisional government.

Great Fire in New York.—On the morning of Sunday, the 2d inst., a fire broke out in the city of New York, in the extensive establishment known as the Congress Sugar Refinery, situated in Duane street, near West Broadway. It consumed the entire building, covering half a square. Two men were killed—both firemen, George Kerr, assistant engineer, and Henry Fulton[?], fireman—both of Engine Company No. 38. The wall flew out in consequence of the confined smoke, burying them in the ruins. A number of persons were injured besides.

☞ Tin ore has been discovered in New Jersey, the only place in the United States except one in New Hampshire. It is not yet ascertained whether the mine can be worked to advantage, or to what extent the ore [illegible]

Correspondence of the Bee.

Washington, April 3d, 1848.

The investigation which has been proceeding before a committee of the Senate, for the past week, has assumed a grave form, and one which may involve serious consequences. After the correspondent of the Herald was summoned before the Chamber, and refused to give any clue to his source of information, a solemn vote was taken, and he was ordered to be kept in close custody, until further directions were issued by the Senate. Since then he has been in durance vile, under the lock and key of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

In the course of this proceeding, some remarkable incidents have occurred. The inquiry originated exclusively with the friends of the administration, and partly at the suggestion of the President. The whigs have not participated in the movement, further than to lend their aid to all necessary steps, to promote the fullest investigation. It was started for a particular object, which has not been achieved, and as soon as it was discovered that the testimony, or rather the refusal of the witness to testify, disarmed the contemplated purpose, there was a change of front, and sudden luke-warmness succeeded to most ardent zeal. As no explanation has been made of this remarkable transition, it leaves the motives of some gentlemen to be strongly suspected. In fact, their own conduct has exposed them to unpleasant suspicion.

On Friday night, when the question of releasing or confining the witness was pending, the loco foco benches were nearly deserted, so that no quorum voted. The Sergeant-at-Arms was sent out, and succeeded in mustering the constitutional number, after considerable delay and exertion. Gen. Cass, Col. Benton, and all those who had been most conspicuous in this proceeding, were missing on the test vote, and placed themselves beyond the discovery of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

I have not been able to discover, that any good result can grow out of this investigation—it was hastily adopted and might better have been avoided, inasmuch as the confinement of the witness can afford no gratification to the Senate, and may be severely injurious to the sufferer. There has been mistakes on both sides—on the part of the Senate in beginning an unprofitable inquiry—on the part of Mr Nugent for not throwing himself upon the magnanimity and justice of the body, by declaring (what I suppose to be) that he could not disclose, without compromitting honor and confidence.

The Senate has been moved to these extreme measures, first, by Mr. Nugent's refusal to testify, as he did before the committee, and next from indications which implicate a member of the body, as a party to one of the publications. The design is to signalize this infraction of the rule, by an example which will prove a warning hereafter.

Mr. Bradley, an eminent member of the bar here, applied for a writ of habeas corpus before the District Court this morning, in the case of Mr. Nugent. The Sergeant-at-Arms was represented by Mr. R. S. Coxe, at whose motion the return was postponed until to-morrow, when the Court directed it should be made.—This proceeding will bring up the merits of the commitment and confinement, and elicit the decision of the judicial tribunal, upon the power of the Senate.

The aspirants on the Locofoco side are making their preparations against the meeting of the Convention. Within the last fortnight, the lives of Cass and Woodbury have been set afloat in pamphlet form, and may be had in any quantity, for the asking. The biographers have not yet undertaken the life and times of James K. Polk; but the intriguers, who are a much more efficient corps, have him in hands. Although Cass has, by far, the start of his competitors, the odds are beginning to be in favor of the incumbent. In the management of the small machinery of party, Mr. Polk has few equals—It is the secret of whatever success he has attained in life. This skill, united with the power of the public patronage, may make him irresistible at Baltimore, despite the opposition which he is destined to encounter from the North-Western States, on account of his veto of Rivers and Harbors. But there is a pliancy of principle among our opponents which office regulates, and though the President has the disadvantage of sectional hostility in this respect, he controls an influence which experience has proved to be superior to all personal or political convictions. Let nobody, therefore, be surprised if Mr. Polk is again the Candidate of his party, the careful contradictions of his organ to the contrary, notwithstanding.

Mr. Allen made an effort in the Senate, this morning, to call up his resolutions on the French Revolution. He read from the journals on previous occasions, with a view to obtain a suspension of the rules; but a majority of one laid him and his motion temporarily on the table. It has been perfectly apparent, since the great intelligence from France, that certain leading Locofocos have endeavored to monopolize the revolution for political capital. Disheartened by local issues and the apprehension of approaching defeat, they have attempted to seize upon a question which all liberal minded men regard with interest and favor, and which deserves the countenance and support of the friends of freedom, wherever they are to be found. France asks the respect of the Nation and not of a party, and she is entitled to our gratitude for her services in the days that tried men's souls, as she is to our cheer, now, that she has thrown off the yoke of ages and is attempting republican government.

The representatives of the Press, in this city, will hold a meeting to-night, for the purpose of expressing their sympathy with the Revolutionary movement in France. It will be well attended, and doubtless be creditable to the intelligence and patriotism of the respectable interest for which it is to speak.

The House has been engaged in the discussion of Sympathizing Resolutions. There was quite a contest on both sides to obtain the floor, and the debate finally assumed an exciting shape, from the introduction of the slavery question. After a session of four hours, the subject was postponed.

The Senate is now (at the closing of the mail) in session upon the proceedings of the Investigating Committee. It was understood this morning, that the scope of inquiry would be enlarged to embrace other papers.

HOMO.

☞ We copy the following intelligence from the Charleston Courier of the 6th inst:—

Nassau, March 8.—The schooner Jane Yates, belonging to Portland, and bound to Havana, appeared off Stirrup's Cay on Thursday last, and sent her boats on shore for water. She had been out forty-one days, having encountered severe gales, which drove her to the East of Bermuda. Most of the deck load of lumber had been thrown overboard to relieve the vessel from her leaky state. The crew had been for a fortnight on water allowance.

March 11.—Harbor Island, March 8.—The American schooner Mandarin, R. Phinney, master, ran ashore near Man's Island last night at 11 o'clock. She was from Richmond, Virginia, bound to Franklin, Louisiana, with 14,000 bricks. Her materials and stores were brought in here and sold at auction.

The schooner George B. Mathew will leave here on the 10th for Wilmington via Nassau, with the captain and crew of the wreck.

The schooner Liverpool arrived last evening from St. Kitts and St. Thomas. Capt. Sims reports that the Danish brig Lydia, which ran ashore at Heneagua, about four weeks ago, was taken to St. Thomas, where the amount of salvage was fixed at $3,000.

Hayti.—Discovery of a Conspiracy to Murder the President.
(Private Correspondence.)

Porto Plata, Feb. 5.—We have been politely handed a letter dated as above, through which we perceive that a fearful conspiracy had been raised at Saint Domingo, and that the lives of the President and others would have been evidently sacrificed, had not its discovery taken place at the moment it did. We make the following extracts:

* * * "The conspiracy which was discovered was very nearly succeeding. The Minister of the Interior, holding at the same time the portefeuille of Finance, of the name of Gen. Puello, had arranged matters so well as to get false keys made of the arsenal and fort, and had won over to him most of the military.—They were to have murdered the President, and to have hoisted the Haytien flag. Puello was to have received a large sum of money. He and his brother have been shot, with two others, and there are several more to be tried. The country is perfectly quiet, and good order is observed every where, without any great pains being taken that it be so."

March 15.—The American schr. W. Putnam, arrived from Boston on Sunday last, after a passage of 16 days. Two days after sailing one of the crew was taken ill with the Small Pox. This fact was immediately communicated to the health officer, Dr. Black, who lost no time in boarding her, in order that every precautionary measure might be taken to prevent the spread of the disease. The bedding and clothing of the patient, and every thing likely to be infected, were destroyed, and the vessel purified by chloride of lime. She still lies in quarantine at Silver Cay.

The Spanish brig Javiera, DeGarey, bound from Cuba to Havana, arrived last evening; after having stranded on the eastern end of Grand Bahama Bank. She was extricated by the wrecking vessels Victress and Seaflower, which also arrived yesterday. The cargo of the [illegible] consists of 2000 bbls. flour, wine, &c.

Atrocious Brutal Murder in Philadelphia.—A dreadful murder occurred in Philadelphia on the evening of the 1st inst. A man named Wm. [illegible] under the influence of liquor and jealousy, killed his wife, by cutting her throat with a shoe knife from ear to ear, causing her death in a half hour.

After finishing this bloody deed, he attempted to take his own life, but [illegible] in Penn Township, at the corner of Schuylkill [illegible]

Congressional.

In the Senate, on the 3d inst., a message was received from the President announcing that he approved of the course pursued by Mr. Rush in recognizing the Provisional Government of France. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

After the presentation of memorials, Mr. Allen moved to take up the resolutions congratulating France upon the establishment of a Republic. The motion excited some discussion.

Mr. Crittenden opposed the motion, and urged the importance of action on the bill to relieve the Judges of the Supreme Court from circuit duty, for one year, with a view to the holding of an extra term of the Supreme Court in May.

Mr. Allen said that the bill referred to by the Senator from Kentucky, would, doubtless, give rise to an extended discussion, while there was no disposition, he believed, on that side of the chamber, to make long or very elaborate speeches on the French resolutions. And he would state a fact to justify by the precedent, speedy action on this subject. On the 10th of May, 1820, Mr. Clay submitted a resolution, in the House, expressing sympathy with the struggle of certain South American republics, and declaring that the American Government will be ready to recognize their independence when established, &c., &c. The resolution, after one or two amendments, was passed same day, and Mr. Clay and another member were appointed a committee to present it to the President.

Mr. Bagby made a few remarks, in which he expressed his concurrence in the views expressed a few days since by the Senator from South Carolina, in regard to the propriety of awaiting the result of the present movement of the people of France, before adopting any resolutions of congratulation. No matter what may have been the action of another branch of the national legislature, at a former period, and on another question, it did not change his views as to the importance of a wise and deliberate consideration of the subject involved in these resolutions. He was in favor of a reference to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. Dickinson thought the merits of the resolutions were not open for discussion, on a motion to take them up merely.

Mr. Crittenden concurred with Mr. Dickinson, but the presiding officer appeared to be of a different opinion.

After a few remarks from Mr. Allen, the question was taken by yeas and nays, on his motion, and it was decided in the negative, 21 to 22.

The Senate then took up the bill relating to the Supreme Court, and passing over it informally, went into Executive session.

In the House, the following message was received from the President:

To the Senate and House of Representatives.—I communicate to Congress, for their information, a copy of a dispatch, with the accompanying documents, received at the Department of State, from the Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States at Paris, giving official information of the French Monarchy, and the establishment in its stead, of a Provisional Government.

This great event occurred suddenly, and was accomplished almost without bloodshed. The world has seldom witnessed a more interesting and sublime spectacle, than the peaceful rising of the French people, resolved to secure for themselves enlarged liberty, and to assert in the majesty of their strength, the great truth, that in this enlightened age, man is capable of governing himself.

The prompt recognition of the new government by the Representative of the United States at the French Court meets my full and unqualified approbation, and he has been authorized, in a suitable manner, to make known this fact to the constituted authorities of the French Republic.

Called upon to act upon a sudden emergency, which could not have been anticipated by his instructions, he judged rightly of the feelings and sentiments of his government, and of his countrymen, when in advance of diplomatic representatives of other countries, he was the first to recognize, so far as it was in his power, the free government established by the French people.

The policy of the United States has ever been that of non-intervention in the domestic affairs of other countries, leaving to each to establish the form of government of its own choice. While this wise policy will be maintained towards France, now suddenly transferred from a monarchy into a republic, all our sympathies are naturally enlisted on the side of a great people, who, imitating our example, have resolved to be free. That such sympathy should exist on the part of the people of the United States with the friends of free government in every part of the world, and especially in France, is not remarkable. We can never forget that France was our early friend in our eventful revolution, and generously aided us in shaking off a foreign yoke, and becoming a free and independent people.

We have enjoyed the blessings of our system of well-regulated self-government for near three-fourths of a century, and can properly appreciate its value. Our ardent and sincere congratulations are extended to the patriotic people of France, upon their noble, and thus far successful efforts to found for their future government, liberal institutions, similar to our own. It is not doubted that under the benign influence of free institutions, the enlightened statesmen of Republican France will find it to be for her true interest and permanent glory to cultivate with the United States the most liberal principles of international intercourse and commercial reciprocity, whereby the happiness and prosperity of both nations will be promoted

JAMES K. POLK.

Washington, April 3, 1848.

The rules being suspended, Mr. Cummins introduced a series of resolutions congratulating France on the success of her revolution, and on the triumphant recognition of the principle of self-government. A motion was made to amend by adding an expression of satisfaction at the measures adopted for the emancipation of slavery in the French colonies. This provoked an exciting debate, pending which, the House adjourned by the casting vote of the Speaker.

Great Meeting.

A large meeting was held last evening in the rotunda of the St. Louis Exchange, to express the sympathies of the people, in favor of the French Republic. The meeting was called to order by Alexander Penn, Esq. The Governor was to preside the assembly, but being sick, his place was filled by Gen. Plauche. Amongst the Vice Presidents, were the Mayor and the three Recorders.

Resolutions expressing the sympathies of the people were reported by a committee, and adopted unanimously by the meeting.

Mr. Soule was then called to the stand. He made a speech of thrilling effect. Messrs. Reynolds, Preaux, Larue, Preston and Dimitry next addressed the meeting, and were loudly greeted.

The meeting then adjourned after giving repeated cheers for the French Republic.

Another link in the Telegraphic chain will be added in the course of a day or two, as we understand that the wires are now up between Macon and Savannah. As soon as the instruments can be put in order, and the necessary arrangements for communication made, Macon will be formally introduced into the Telegraphic sisterhood.—Charleston Courier.

Shreveport Journals.—We acknowledge the receipt of the first number of the "Shreveport Journal"—a new paper published in the Parish of Caddo. It is conducted by Wm. Falconer, Esq., and is thoroughly and undeviatingly Whig, and is edited with no inconsiderable spirit and ability. We hail with unfeigned pleasure the establishment of the only Whig journal North of Red River and trust that it will exert an auspicious influence in casting light upon the political darkness that prevails in that section of the State.

From Brazil.—An arrival from Rio de Janeiro brings intelligence from Brazil to the 10th February. The Herald says:—

The intelligence in the Journal is devoid of interest. The Emperor of Brazil is making a tour of the provinces, and the various towns, villages, &c., through which he passed, were all enthusiastic in their reception of him.

From Pernambuco and Bahia, advices had been received at Rio to the 20th and 25th Jan. In Pernambuco there was nothing new. In Bahia there had been some assassinations and some little disturbances—they had been quelled, however.

The Brazilian cotton factory "Todos os Santos," had sent up to the capital the first specimens of their cotton manufactures, which were said to be superior to the same sort of imported goods.

We find no news from the Argentine Republic.

From the River of Platte.—A Rio de Janeiro letter of January 31, states that at the last advices, "business at Montevideo was in a bad state, England and France are about to make an attempt to restore peace to the shores of La Plata, by negotiation; but nobody thinks it will be attended with success. Business intercourse between Buenos Ayres and Montevideo seems to be stopped.

The Steyermarkische.—This unrivalled band give another concert to-night at the Armory Hall. They merit in every respect the most liberal encouragement. [illegible]

Miguel Otero, charged with stabbing with intent to murder, was put upon his trial, and found guilty of assault and battery.

The Razor Case.—Yesterday morning, Recorder Seuzeneau went to Mr. Joseph Mathieu Cucullu's premises, for the purpose of taking his affidavit. Mr. Cucullu stated that on the 9th inst., at about seven o'clock in the evening, at the corner of History and Craps streets, opposite Mr. J. A. Prieur's Bakery, his slave Christophe alias Kit, rushed upon him with a razor in his hand, and cut him severely on the head, with intent to commit murder. The case was forthwith referred to the First District Court, by Recorder Seuzeneau, without having any further testimony. The negro is still in the Parish prison.

Escaped.—The notorious Bill Burke, alias Bill Gale, after being placed in the dock of the First District Court, effected his escape yesterday, by jumping over the railing, while the attention of the Sheriff was called to some other quarter, and running away. He was charged with robbery.

Assault with a Dangerous Weapon.—On Monday evening last, between six and seven o'clock, a rencontre took place near the corner of Dauphine and St. Peter streets, between Bernard Couvant Sr., and Jerome Galle, both free men of color. The latter shot his antagonist with a pistol loaded with nails, which produced a severe wound on the left side. Couvant is lying dangerously ill. Previously on the same evening, Couvant had been assaulted by Jerome's brothers, named Doresca Galle, Dermont Galle and Soson Galle. An affidavit having been filed yesterday, before Recorder Ramos, by Mr. Bernard Couvant, Jr., against the above four alluded persons, an order of arrest was issued against them.

Recorder Baldwin.—William Brown was yesterday brought up before Recorder Baldwin, charged with selling to Mr. Simon O'Driscoll's wife, a saddle stolen about two months ago from Mr. Clark. After a careful investigation of the case, Brown was committed for trial in the First District Court.

On Sunday night last, the store of Mr. Manuel Munis, situated at the corner of Perdido and Circus streets, was forcibly entered by one John Dunlap, who carried away a sum of fifteen dollars in specie. Dunlap was immediately arrested, and was brought up yesterday before Recorder Baldwin to be examined. He was sent before the First District Court. Bail $1,000.

P. T. Bertrand Menger, charged with forgery, has not yet been arrested. We were misinformed yesterday, when we said that the accused was arrested.

Council of Municipality No. Two.—The Council met last evening for the transaction of the weekly business. Recorder Baldwin in the chair.

The weekly Treasurer's report was read as follows:

A petition from D. Reynolds, praying for permission to erect a steam engine within the limits of this Municipality, was referred to the police committee.

A communication was received from C. A. Beckrow, editor of the German Courier, complaining of the brutal conduct of watchman Smith, on the night of the 8th April. Referred to the police committee.

Mr. Peters reported a resolution authorising the Surveyor to report at the next meeting of the Council a detailed statement of all the works which have been authorized by the late Council. Adopted.

The Council postponed to the next sitting the election of the members for the Board of Health. Adjourned.

Attempt to Rob.—John S. Jones and John Lucas, were arrested yesterday by officer Joseph Grillier, of the Third Municipality police, charged with attempting to pick the pocket of Mr. Alexander Reich, on Monday night last, at the corner of Morales and Elysean Fields streets. They have not yet been examined.

Inquest.—An inquest was held yesterday on the body of a white man, supposed to be named John Daniel Koegel, from a passport found on his person. The deceased was about twenty-three years of age. The body was found in the Mississippi, at the foot of St Peter street, in the First Municipality. Verdict—"Found Drowned."

Orleans Theatre.—Those distinguished artists Botesini, Arditi and Desvernine make their debut this evening at the Orleans Theatre. They come among us heralded by fame as performers of high celebrity. Mr. Botesini's mastery of the double bass is said to be perfectly wonderful, while Arditi on the violin and Desvernine on the piano have attained an eminence that ranks them with the most admired artists of the age. We expect the Orleans Theatre will exhibit to-night a rich array of fashion and beauty. The dilettanti will of course be there.

Institution for Young Ladies.
Founded by Madame Aspia, directed by Madame DERON, late Miss HUET.
Nos. 107 & 109 Burgundy st. between Conti and St. Louis streets.
MADAME DERON, late Miss HUET, is assuming the direction of the institution, conducted for the last seven years by Madame Aspia, solicits a continuance of the kind support which has been justly extended to the instructress whom she succeeds.
A distinguished pupil of the "Maison Royale de St. Denis," possessing the diploma of superior Instructress, and formerly first Mistress in two of the most celebrated Boarding-Schools of Paris, Madame DERON, who has already passed several years in this City, is equally well known for the mild firmness of her character, and the excellence of her method of instruction.
She will be ably seconded by her husband, Mr. DERON, who has similar guarantees to offer to Families. Recently arrived from Paris at New Orleans, he is already known under the most favorable auspices. A Bachelor of Arts, a Licentiate of the Faculty of Paris, formerly a pupil of the "Ecole des Chartes" at the King's Library, and professor of Literature, History and Philosophy at Paris. Mr. DERON is also the author of several works. He will devote his whole time to the French classes in the different branches of instruction.
The English language will be the object of particular attention: governesses of acknowledged capacity, and a distinguished Professor, Mr. Orton will be especially entrusted with the direction of the English classes.
Ladies of the most remarkable talent and eminent science, will give instruction in Music at the Establishment.
Madame Boyer will continue to give lessons on the Piano, and Madame Lavillebeuvre on the Piano and Harp.
The other accomplishments will also be taught by the best Professors.
Such in a resumed form is the order of the Establishment, and such are the titles and means by which Mr and Madame DERON, are enabled to assure parents that the studies of their children will be conducted in a superior manner.
As those considerations which constitute the order of education should prevail over all others, Madame DERON will principally exert herself to justify the confidence of Families by the physical, moral and religious care that she will bestow on her pupils.
To form in young Ladies, first the heart and the character and the mind: to inspire them with true and pure principles, to prepare them to enter the world with ease, but also with a profound sentiment of duty; to render them not only mild and gentle, but firm and decided; to endow them with an intelligence equally brilliant and solid, and above all, to prepare them to become hereafter good mothers of Families, are the ends which Madame DERON proposes to maintain steadily in view.
The practice of such a system of education and instruction, Madame DERON ventures to hope will secure to her all the esteem and confidence which it has already procured for Madame Aspia.
The terms of payment will remain as at present established by Madame Aspia.
