modified in any manner that was desired, providing it was finally approved.

This suggestion being understood, members were induced to acrutinize the address with more causin; when it was discovered, that it had been maternally altered in points, that had created considerable discussion in the various Committees and causeses. A fraid like this deserves too only exposure, but the most unquished demuncation, for it is defligated to place the Whigs of the South in a false position, by representing that they reliesed to sign, what contains no more than a recutal of the grievances indicated by the Nurth. This proceeding is in character with the whole conduct of the projectors of the movement. They began it with personal views and they have pursued it, with the purpose of disorganzing the Whig party in the South. Should it begone necessary to make a publication, there are Whig internets, who stand prepared to prively, that the address his there are name in expect of the treatment of the control of the co

Louisiana State Bank have had reason to complain of the administration of the affisis of that institution. Indologing, year after year, the hope that the condition of the Bank was improving, and that it would, like the other banking institutions of our city, give a remunerating compensation to the Stockholders for their investments in its stock, a majority of them have acquiesed in reappointing the same Board, with such samual changes as the law required—in making which their guide. In these expectationality have been disappointed. The Louishand State Bank does not seem to recover from the dissacres of 1837 and subsequent years; while the other bank which survived the financial troubles of those days, have not only made whide their capital, but have for many years given satisfactory dividende—this ancient institution, possessing, in many respects, advantages over them, remaine in a topic datase.
