CONTINUATION OF THE NEW-ORLEANS BEE.

Latest Intelligence by the American
The Evening Picayune has received the following express:

IRELAND.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Irish rebels must give one answer to the question, "What do you want?"

The rebels have lost their interest and importance, at least for the present. The conference now sitting in Dublin is about to adjourn, and the rebels have given up all hope of ever getting one dollar in each last of the three millions of dollars which they had sent to America.

Agreements not specified as to time will be paid.

A few days ago, the rebels, who had already returned true bills, and yesterday the procedure was commenced, but yesterday did not bring the result.

The prayer of the people to spare the lives of the rebels at Clonmel has been granted.

At a meeting of the rebels held on Saturday, it was decided to demand the remission of their days in Ireland.

Nothing definite has been determined upon the subject, but the General-in-Chief, General O'Brien, and the unwilling to grant his certificate, the House of Lords should agree.

Should the wits not be allowed to invent, it will create more dissatisfaction, and even greater animosity.

The same is true as England.

This would, at first, undoubtedly lead to a civil war.

The Bishop of Ross, Roman Catholic

Archbishop of Tuam, and recommends the election of a Catholic University in that country.

The internal state of Ireland is far from being in a position to pay the expenses of the rebellion.

The rebels have, however, still some time

to live.

They plan to live over.

The rebels have, however, still some time

to live.
