Said memorial was, on motion, referred to the Committee on Commerce, Agriculture and Manufactures

The President submitted the following report, which was read and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary

To the Legislature of the State of Louisiana:

In accordance with the law, and in obedience to a resolution of the Senate, the undersigned, Adjutant and Inspector General, begs leave to submit the following report of the present state of the Militia, its organization and discipline, together with suggestions of defects in the Militia laws, which in his opinion render some amendments necessary to make them effective and secure the public good for which they are designed.

The State is divided into four divisions, thirteen brigades and thirty-three regiments and separate battalions, of these, one brigade—the Louisiana Legion, and two regiments—the Louisiana Volunteers and Washington regiment are volunteer corps. All the regiments of common Militia are officered and organized, except two. The Louisiana Legion is in a high state of organization and discipline, and the Louisiana Volunteers and Washington Regiment are rapidly completing their organization, which was broken up during the war with Mexico—The companies belonging to these two regiments now officered and complete are in most excellent condition, and do honor to our citizen soldiery. We have also Artillery Companies at Donaldsonville, Baton Rouge and Canton, and Cavalry Companies in East Feliciana and St. Mary. All these companies are well organized and ably officered, and their discipline shows they are not behind their brethren in the qualifications which form the soldier.

Owing to difficulties in enforcing the laws, it has been impossible during the last year, so as to exhibit the Militia on parade, so as to form the duty of inspection, and obtain returns of its numerical strength. Such has been the result, for several years, under every change in the laws. Since 1830, no report was made to the General Government till in 1847, the undersigned, by the most strenuous exertions, was able to obtain returns and make a full report, which showed we had nearly reached in number and organization required we have drawn from the United States three times the number of arms which we should have drawn under the same report, as follows:

By the return of 1830, our Militia amounted to about 15,000, which entitled us to about 10 stands of arms. In 1847, the undersigned reported nearly 15,000 upon which we have drawn only 3,200 stands arms, $3,200 each, showing a gain to the State, of nearly $9,000 per annum. The present number of our Militia can in any much from the last report, though of course annually increasing. In organization, it is less removed nearly the same. Twelve regiments which were before without officers have been organized, and in others the vacancies have been generally filled. In the little time the undersigned was willing to devote to duties, making necessary instruction out of the question. The great objects then should be entire, methodical proper organization under proper officers. Out of time of need we may know where to find the men, and their leaders may be ready. Parades are of course necessary to have exercise and habituate each man to proper subordination, and the idea that no large part of the strength and defence of a country, and owes particular time and sacrifices for that purpose.

To secure these objects, the undersigned, has had the honor on former occasions to call the attention of the Legislature to some amendments in the law, few in number, but which, it made, is believed would prove effective and insure success. They are as follows

1st. Making it obligatory on persons elected or appointed to office, to accept the same and perform the duties.

2d. Changing the manner of drawing upon exempts in divers cases.

3d. Lessening and simplifying courts martial and courts of inquiry.

4th. Lessening the number of parades and the amount of forfeits thereon.

A bill was passed by the House of Representatives at the last session, and is now among the unfinished business of the Senate, which if its right was allowed the required remedy on these points, and give such efficiency to our system, as would put us prepared to meet every emergency which may arise. Should the Legislature be unwilling to make any radical changes in our Militia system, it is believed those points out above, while simplifying the law and rendering it less burdensome, will secure a more united organization and at the same time fill the ranks of our volunteer corps throughout the State.

After all, the volunteer corps are the only force which can afford any safe reliance in time of peace and fearless for strength and defence in time of war—a ready remedy for domestic emergencies and a firm bulwark against external wrong and aggression. These considerations make so powerful an impression upon the undersigned, that he cannot too strongly urge upon the Legislature the policy of so framing the laws as will insure the formation of at least one volunteer corps in each parish, and of such liberal appropriations as will enable them to maintain their discipline, and hold themselves at all times ready to perform their important duties with honor to themselves and safety to the State.

All which is most respectfully submitted.

CHARLES N ROWLEY,

Mr. Peck, of the Committee on the Penitentiary, made the following report, which was read and was ordered to be printed:

The Committee appointed on behalf of the Senate in relation to the Penitentiary, beg leave to submit their unanimous report.

They have visited that Institution, every department appears to be well managed, the convicts appear to be well clothed, well fed and well provided for in all respects. The machinery of every description is in most complete order, and the articles manufactured in the Penitentiary are equal to any articles of the same description manufactured elsewhere; particularly the coarse cotton goods usually styled Lowells, the Kentucky jeans, and jeans, negro shoes and bagging, and the Committee take great pleasure in recommending these articles to the favorable consideration of the Public. In order to appreciate the relationship of the State with this institution in a pecuniary point of view it becomes necessary to refer back a few years to previous Legislation.

By an act approved March 25th, 1844, the sum of $15000 was loaned the lessees, Messrs McHatton, Pratt & Co for the purpose of commencing the establishment for manufacturing coarse cotton and woolen cloths at 6 per cent per annum payable at the expiration of three years.

By act approved March 5th 1845, the sum of $18000 was appropriated to remove east wall to raise same six feet and construct a two story brick building

By an act approved February 17th 1847, the sum of $37480 was appropriated $12000 of the sum to be appropriated for the purpose of finishing the building referred to in act passed in 1845, $25480 of the sum to be appropriated to purchasing and putting up machinery for the manufacture of cotton and woolen goods, $15000 of the $25480 never to be paid in the hands of the lessees given for money loaned them, the substitute of appropriations under these three acts amount to $52000.

The Committee are informed by the Board of Directors that the lessees under their former lease have a claim against the State for improvements in buildings and machinery amounting to $29,905 92, this claim the Committee request upon investigation in consequence of the terms of the lease of 1844.

By the term of this lease dated 9th of July 1841, it is leases obtained the Penitentiary with all its appurtenances for a term of five years, commencing on the 1st of October 1841, the conditions of the lease were that the lessees should pay the salaries of the Physician, Clerk and Principal Keeper, amounting to the sum of $2200, and "to leave upon the premises at the termination of the lease all alterations, additions, buildings, improvements, machinery, &c., of every kind which the lessees may place thereon during the lease free of all charge to the State."

By the 10 h section of an act to provide for the better administration of the Louisiana Penitentiary, approved March 25th 1844, the lessee is required to purchase from the State all the materials and manufactured articles which may be on hand at the expiration of his contract at a price to be fixed by the two sworn appraisers "and at the expiration of the said lease should it not be renewed, the State will take from said lessee all manufactured articles and materials then on hand at a like appraisement." In accordance with the provisions of this section the lessees of the Penitentiary under their former lease executed their bond to the State for the sum of $15,00,2 being the appraised value of materials, manufactured articles, &c., received of the State which fell due on the 1st of October 1849.

At the expiration of the late lease the Directors of the Penitentiary received from the late firm Messrs McHatton, Pratt & Co., the members of the firm being James A. McHatton, Chas. McHatton, Wm. Pratt and Geo. W. Ward, making an inventory of the property to the value of $244,967 20 and turned the same over to the new firm under the style of McHatton, Ward & Co., the members of the firm being James A. McHatton, Chas McHatton and Geo. W. Ward, the Committee report unfavorably in regard to their claim Your Committee entertain the opinion that the State is under no obligations, legal or moral to take of the lessees the materials manufactured articles, &c., that they had on hand at the expiration of their former lease, because the lease has been renewed to the same individuals, with the exception of one of the members retired.

Messrs McHatton, Ward & Co., were elected lessees by joint vote of the two Houses of the General Assembly on the 13th of March 1845, the terms of the lease have been changed by act of that date, under the lease the State receives one fourth of the profits, which is guaranteed not be less than four thousand dollars under the former lease the State received no part of the profits.

The objects of the 10th section of the act of 1844, previously quoted were very obvious, that of protecting the lessee from loss or injury in case his lease should be renewed, but as the materials, manufactured articles, &c., which were on hand at the expiration of the late lease have been in the possession of the new firm composed of the same individuals, with the exception of one of the partners who has retired they could not have sustained any loss or injury which the section was designed to guard against.

Your Committee further report that the lessees do not employ the convicts to the best advantage under the new lease, to pay for the salaries of the officers of this Institution, on this point, the Committee have arrived at a different conclusion by reference to section 32 of the act to amend an act entitled an act for the better administration of the Louisiana Penetiniary approved March 25th, 1844, and approved 8th of March, 1845, which reads as follows: which terms and conditions shall be that the said lessee or lessees shall pay annually into the State Treasury one fourth of the annual profits arising from said Penitentiary, and shall guarantee that the fourth of said profits shall not be less than four thousand dollars per annum, if the article is not contrived to convey the idea of net proceeds, then the State will not receive as a minimum four thousand dollars per annum, and will be liable at the expiration of the present lease, should it not be renewed, to take all buildings merchandize and materials, that the lessees may have on hand.

In conclusion, your Committee recommend that an act be passed authorizing the Directors of the Penitentiary to pay into the State Treasury annually under by the Institution, and authorizing and requiring the Lessees to pay into the Treasury, the annual instalments in accordance with the terms of the lease. In accordance with these views the Committee submit the accompanying bill.

(Signed) HENRY J. PECK,
Chairman Senate Committee.
