Day and Boarding School for Young Ladies.

Founded in 1839, by Madame Leiris, and conducted since 1846, by MADAME DESRAVAUX, Burgundy street, between Dauphine and Bienville streets, New Orleans.

MME. and MRS. DESRAVAUX, formerly in the Rampart street, having removed their institution upwards of a year ago, to more extensive accommodations, assure parents and guardians of youth, that their new building in Burgundy st. has met their expectations, and supplies one great and almost indispensable requirement—a large playground. Other modations, adapted to the object they had in view. It is scarcely necessary to state, that the building which they erected, and supplied at the time, with improvements for the comfort and convenience of domestic life, and for educational purposes. The apartments are airy, well lighted, and in every respect perfumished. The large and well shaded garden in the rear of the building, purchased for the accommodation of the pupils, is found to be attended with many advantages, as regards health, exercise and amusement—also, a large and commodious hall, has been made, at no small expense, to increase the facilities of education; to guard the health of the pupils, and to promote their comfort and happiness.

The Institution provides thorough and substantial instruction in every stage and department of education. It possesses great facilities for the acquirement of the French language, which is the native tongue of the Principal. Music; and it is sufficient to say, that no efforts will be wanting to sustain the reputation which the School has already acquired in these departments.

DR. MACAULAY, who has taught in the Institution for upwards of ten years, will, as heretofore, devote his time equally between it and Mme. Macaulay's, takes the entire charge of the department of English Literature, including Reading, Writing and Orthography; and teaches not only the outlines, but enough of Mathematics, Chemistry, Geology and Astronomy, as to enable pupils to understand the allusions to ordinary phenomena which are constantly presenting themselves in their observation.

For further information, the Directors of the Institution respectfully refer parents to their prospectus, published in pamphlet form, to be had at the book store and at the Institution. my26—1y

G. MOYER'S INSTITUTION, No. 148 Conti street, between Dauphine and Burgundy.

MR. G. MOYER, founder of this establishment, the oldest in New Orleans, seizes this opportunity to make a new appeal to the confidence of parents.

The institution is conducted in a large mansion occupying a fine central position, being well ventilated, and in other respects healthy and commodious.

The range of studies which engage the attention of the pupils extends over all the branches of learning, which form a complete, liberal, practical and finished education; from primary instruction, to the more abstruse subjects which are specially the province of a superior school.

The elementary studies are attended to with more than ordinary care, considering the decisive influence which they exercise over the other branches of instruction.

Discipline, which must not be separated from assiduous study, for from a good education, is conducted with solicitude. It is regulated according to the age and character of the students, and intended to give them an accurate idea of duty and good behavior.

REASONS OF INSTRUCTION.

The English, French, Spanish, Greek and Latin languages; Mathematics, Natural Geography, Elements of Natural Philosophy, and Philosophical Piano.
