The New-Orleans Bee.

No. 1280. Vol. X.—NEW SERIES. Vol. XXIV. Whole No. 6335.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE ..... NEW-ORLEANS, WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 18, 1850.

MAGNE & WEISSE, Proprietors, No. 83 CHARTRES STREET.

TERMS OF THE BEE:

DAILY PAPER, one year in advance $10 00
TRI-WEEKLY BEE, semi-weekly (one week's issue in advance) 5 00

ADVERTISING: One Dollar for every TEN lines the first insertion, and Fifty Cents for each subsequent one. No advertisement inserted for less than one day.

Advertisements not in the English language, charged as follows: Spanish or French, double the usual rates; German, double rates, and charged extraordinary.

Advertisements unmarked as to time will be published until forbid, and charged accordingly.

Advertisements not exceeding ten lines, charged one dollar for the first insertion, and fifty cents for each subsequent insertion.

☞ The circulation of the Daily Bee greatly exceeds that of any other paper published in this city, and to the extent of one-quarter more than the combined circulation of the other two Daily papers.

The New-Orleans Daily Bee.

Official Journal for the State, General Council, First Municipality and Board of Liquidators.

Wednesday Morning, Sept. 18, 1850.

FOR CONGRESS, 2d DISTRICT, HENRY A. BULLARD.

☞ The Northern Mail came through yesterday, by way of Lexington to the public.

☞ We are greatly indebted to the Hon. Ewell Lea for valuable public documents.

PUBLIC REJOICINGS IN WASHINGTON.

Correspondence of the Bee.

The passage of the Compromise bills on the 6th and 7th instant, were made known to the most distant quarters of the republic by means of the telegraph, and the intelligence created universal joy and exultation. No where were the demonstrations of pleasure more lively than in the Federal city itself. At sunset the cannon on the Capitol grounds were drawn to the Washington Monument Square, and one hundred guns were fired in honor of the occasion. The excitement and delight of the citizens were not, however, to be so expressed. In the course of the evening nearly all Washington was out. An immense concourse was formed, and marched to the National Hotel, the Marine Band playing National airs, and the populace cheering in honor of Mr. Clay, who, being absent from the city, could not respond to their compliment in person. The Union, the National Intelligencer, was, however, there represented, and in the absence of the great statesman, the Hon. Mr. Bell, of Tennessee, made a brief but appropriate speech, which was received with great applause. The Hon. Mr. Crittenden, of Kentucky, responded in a brief but eloquent speech. Mr. Speaker Cobb, who addressed the assemblage in a very happy manner, congratulated them upon the successful issue of the measures, which he hoved would restore confidence and good feeling throughout the country. The Speaker's remarks were received with loud and long continued cheering. The Senate's committee, Messrs. Hunter and Bissell, had been appointed with the committee of the House, and then departed with the music playing, cheering and trampling.

In New York cannon were fired, and the national flag was displayed at the rotunda of the City Hall.

ENTERPRISE.

We take the following account of the dedication of a church in Cincinnati from the Commercial of that city. We wish that not only the people of the particular denomination to which it belongs, but of all denominations will emulate the example of the liberality which the members of this church have exhibited:

The new edifice of Mr. Wesley, the property of Mr. Wesley, a wealthy merchant, has been recently dedicated to the worship of God. The building is a handsome one, and is situated in a very pleasant part of the city. The dedication was performed by Bishop Morris, and was attended by a large congregation. The church was erected at a cost of $40,000, and was dedicated free from debt. The liberality which caused the erection of this church is worthy of all praise.

Another instance of liberality is that of Mr. Wesley, who has contracted for the erection of a church at New York. The building is to cost $100,000, and is to be presented to the congregation worshipping there, free from debt. The church is to be situated in the Fifth Avenue, in the North End, and will be a splendid edifice. We commend the example of these gentlemen to the attention of the wealthy members of other churches.

Mr. Webster, the eloquence was received with the most enthusiastic applause. Mr. Hallett, of N. Y., was present and connected with Mr. Webster's commanding influence, and a prominent share in producing the many events which would fill the heart of patriots with joy and gratitude.

The citizens of Boston serenaded Messrs. Hunter and Bissell