THE INDEPENDENT TICKET

The Independents have at length nominated their ticket, and a curious botch potch it is! They have left the Mayoralty untouched, thereby acknowledging that party has a right to dispute that office. They have, moreover, refrained from assailing the nominations of Recorders: those for street Commissioners and Surveyors had their share for Assistant Aldermen, and have created their unwise interference to the Treasurer, Comptroller and Aldermen. Let us see now what they have done, and glance at the political bearings of their course.

For Treasurer they have designated G. V. Benoit. The object of this move is transparent. It is to strike down and defeat Mr. Garland, and the Independents have certainly come criminally to work to effect their purpose. They nominate a popular and respectable whig, who they naturally imagine, will receive a large support from the whig voters. He may not be, probably will not be elected but what of that? He may abstract votes enough from Mr. Garland to ensure the defeat of the whig nominee, and even though Mr. Benoit, the Locofoco candidate should slip in the vessel of the Independents will be still effectively manœuvred. They would still have Locofoco, whether elected or defeated, to thank for the success of their machinations.

For Comptroller they take Mr. Carroll's the Locofoco nominee. What possible object there can be to divide De Blanc—is not intimated—but the Independents are determined to favor Mr. Carroll, with all the blandishments of his new political "pull," holding sway, A. L. Depaul of Recorder capacity, thus ensuring nomination, for, as it so happened this Mr. De Blanc has been the same station, and is to receive satisfaction of the community, it is now that the Independent men were actuated not by a personal preference for Mr. Carroll more than by an anxious desire to secure the election of the most competent candidate. This is a fine specimen of Independent impartiality. They have two of the offices to bestow—one of which only. To one party or another they must confer the ticket, for either they adopt the Locofoco candidate. The inevitable consequence must be to place the Whigs at one. To Locofocos are the sole gainers by the Independent movement.

GEN. SCOTT.

Once for all we must insist that our cotemporary of the Courier, shall quote us fairly. We have no objection to good-humored controversy, but if we are to be misrepresented, we shall certainly decline further discussion. The Courier of yesterday, speaking of Gen. Scott, says:

The Bulletin and Bee have denounced his chances in advance; they have gone so far as to state that no Southern Whig can or should support him; they have done more to injure the old soldier than any Democratic press has done, they have damned him by implication; the other Whig journals of the State follow their lead, and so will the Convention.

As we do not imagine the Courier would wantonly charge us with assertions we have never made, we shall content ourselves with remarking that our cotemporary is wholly mistaken. The Bee has never said that no South or Western man or slaveholder should support Gen. Scott—such a statement on our part, without qualification, would be not merely arrogant, but wholly improper and reprehensible. What we have said, once, twice and twenty times, was, that Southern Whigs would not and could not support Gen. Scott, unless his opinion touching slavery and the Compromise should be distinctly known, and should accord with the South. Let Gen. Scott stand on the same platform with Mr. Fillmore and he will receive Southern votes. If not—not.

These have been and are still our views, and we believe they are identical with those of our friend of the Bulletin, and of the Whig party of the South.

THE ELECTORAL TICKET

Loss of the British ship Lucy Ann.—The British ship Lucy Ann, Captain Griffith Owens, sailed the 14th January, from Liverpool, for this port, with a cargo of 250 tons of salt, and consigned to P. Maxwell & Co., went ashore on Britton Island, on the 4th of March. The hull mate and seven of the crew arrived here yesterday and report the ship a total wreck, with her keel broke in three different places. The ship was insured to her full amount in Europe. On the morning of the 12th, Capt. G. Owens left the South-West Pass in his small boat, where he had been for tow boat assistance, and up to the 6th inst., when the mate left the wreck, he had not been heard from, and fears were entertained for his safety.

The Voice of Louisiana.

We had the pleasure yesterday, of laying before our readers the nomination by the Whig State Convention of MILLIARD FILLMORE of President and JOHN J. CRITTENDEN, of the Vice President of the United States. To the readers of this sheet, we need hardly say that the action of the Convention was precisely what was anticipated, and that it meets the cordial and enthusiastic approbation of nearly every whig in Louisiana. Indeed, but for the necessity of designating a State electoral ticket, and of nominating electors to the Whig National Convention, the formal expression of the preferences of the whig party, though a State convention would have been superfluous. Everybody, except the Courier, were perfectly well aware that no other name than that of Fillmore was thought of in this State that the partizan of Gen. Scott were confined to less than an omnibus load of whigs, and that when the Convention did meet, Mr. Fillmore would be nominated by acclamation. Every body too is aware that Louisiana stands not alone in her choice, but is backed and supported by the whig party of the whole South. Mr. Fillmore has been the favorite of Southern Whigs, from the period of his first message to Congress, up to the time he received that determination to stand by the Compromise as a just and final settlement of the questions involved in it. Among the several able candidates, he undoubtedly stands highest in the affections of the South. His firmness, moderation, national, yet broad-catholic views, absolute freedom from sectional bias, upright and manly course on every question have rendered him dear to the hearts of the Union, and grateful to disunionists and abolitionists.

The nomination of Mr. Fillmore has been a number of excellent resolutions of which one, we have only seen the autopsied Telegraphic abstract.

1. That the Whigs of Louisiana adhere to their great republican principles.

2. That the State Government ought to be conducted on economical principles.

3. That MILLARD FILLMORE is the choice of Louisiana for the Presidency, and JOHN J. CRITTENDEN, for Vice President.

4. That the Whig Delegates to the National Convention are instructed to cast the vote of Louisiana for the above gentlemen, and to use all honorable means to secure their nomination.

5. That MILLARD FILLMORE is the choice of Louisiana for the Presidency, and JOHN J. CRITTENDEN, for Vice President, subject to the nomination of the Whig National Convention.

6. That the Whig Delegates to the National Convention are instructed to cast the vote of Louisiana for the above gentlemen, and to use all honorable means to secure their nomination.

7. That the Whig Delegates to the National Convention are instructed to cast the vote of Louisiana for the above gentlemen, and to use all honorable means to secure their nomination.

8. That the Whig Delegates to the National Convention are instructed to cast the vote of Louisiana for the above gentlemen, and to use all honorable means to secure their nomination.

9. That the Whig Delegates to the National Convention are instructed to cast the vote of Louisiana for the above gentlemen, and to use all honorable means to secure their nomination.
