BRASS MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

New Combination of the Stanbouf Piston, by which the course of the Cylinder, is reduced to one-half of the usual course of this species of Instruments.

SYSTEM OF CYLINDERS,

REVOLVING ON THEIR AXES.

THIS NEW INVENTION renders any one, in practice, an easy execution, which the former cylinder could not reach. Independent of its facilities of manipulation by which the greatest difficulties may be fearlessly surmounted, it secures to the performer a regular and progressive style, without interruption, without any forced movement.

PERFUMER AND CHEMIST, PARIS.—Privileged by the Queen of Spain.

THE fancy Soap and fine Perfumery of VIOLET are well known by the numerous customers of this house, to the fashionable world, and are yet the most highly estimated, inasmuch as they can bear the longest sea voyage without losing any of their qualities, the greatest of which is their superiority or perfume over all others and the purest elegance of their model.

Among the best are the Theatre Soap; the Spanish Assortiste, the Gold Cream Soap; the concentrated Violet from the simplest and most odoriferous flowers, and extra fine and flavored Pomatum.

Agents, New Orleans, LION, PINSARD & CO. 56 & 58 Royal street. October 1st, 1852.

RICHELIEU POMATUM.

PATENTED

THE well known excellence of the Richelieu Pomatum, and the constant demand for it, have induced the Proprietor to introduce a new article, which he has no doubt will be found equally valuable. It is prepared from the choicest Vegetable Oils, and is perfectly free from any mineral substance. It will be found invaluable for the Hair, Whiskers, and Moustaches, and will be found to promote the growth of the latter, and to prevent the Hair from falling off or turning grey. It is also a most delightful perfume for the Handkerchief. Sold by all Perfumers throughout the World.

Manufactured by the Proprietor, E. ROWLAND, 20, Hatton Garden, London.
