The Hour and the Man.

* We make no elaborate appeal to the citizens of New Orleans to-day. Our interests have been of little avail, at this late hour of the contest, it be still necessary to ply the voters with argument, to stimulate them by exhortation, or to defend WINFIELD SCOTT and WM. A. GRAHAM from the detraction and calumny with which they have been assailed. The time for argument has passed. We have endeavored to profit by the interval, so as to enlighten those of our citizens who needed information, and to set forth plainly, frankly and fully the merits, claims and public services of our candidate. The hour for action has now arrived and in the brief passage of time that may ensue, ere the shock of opposite battalions takes place, let us bid every honest voter, who has not surrendered his convictions, judgment and independence to the blind despotism of party, to give a moment's reflection to what we shall very briefly urge.

Ask yourself what are the respective claims of WINFIELD SCOTT and FRANKLIN PIERCE upon the country? Has not the former rendered the most eminent and priceless public services? Has he not for forty years led our arms to victory? Did he not humble British pride at Chippewa, and chastise Mexican arrogance from Vera Cruz to the Gates of Belen? Is he not a PATRIOT very much of his own American feeling, genius, principles and heroic exploits? Is he not broad, national and Catholic in his opinions? Is he not brave, high minded, chivalric, honorable, faithful,—a friend to the Constitution, a lover of the Union—without a stain upon his reputation, without a stain upon his honor? Is he not such a man as we should look to with pride and confidence, in any emergency, in any conflict between America and other powers of the world? Has he not imperishable claims to the gratitude and affection of the people?

Ask yourself now why you should sustain FRANKLIN PIERCE in opposition to WINFIELD SCOTT? Grant that he is a man of private worth, well bred and educated—of untainted moral character. What are the evidences of his ability? What public services has he rendered to his country? Where is the record of his exploits civil or military? Is he not the mere bantling of a party?—taken up as a pis aller, when such really distinguished statesmen as CASS, BUCHANAN, DOUGLAS, &c., failed to obtain the nomination? Did any one ever hear of Mr PIERCE before his candidature? Had he ever read or done anything to recommend him? Is it not undeniable that ingenuity and patience have traversed over and over again the scanty records of his life, without discovering a single act that can give him a legitimate claim to the suffrages of the American people? Are not his opinions adverse to our interests? Is he not evidently opposed to Internal Improvements? Has he not consistently resisted every attempt by the General Government to remove obstructions to river navigation, and to ameliorate the condition of our harbors? Is he not the favorite of the Freesoilers and Secessionists, and are not his own views on Slavery at least uncertain, and so far as known, REPULSIVE TO SOUTHERN SENTIMENT? What earthly claim does he present, that men unshackled by party ties should sustain him, rather than WINFIELD SCOTT?

We would have every citizen to ask himself these questions, and to ponder well the answers to them, ere he votes. None can compare the two candidates, without being forced to confess that in every requisite of greatness, ability, patriotic service, and true merit, WINFIELD SCOTT stands immeasurably higher than FRANKLIN PIERCE.

The hour for action has arrived * Will not American sustain the man of the age?

THE PEOPLE'S EYES OPENING.

An intelligent German of the 4th District, in forms us that his countrymen in the upper part of the City, are awaking to their true interests, —that since the refusal of subscribers to the Rail Road Stocks to pay their instalments until the Constitutional question is decided, they have become justly alarmed; and now ac knowledge the truth that if the Whig party be lost; been endeavoring to impress upon them-that without the new Constitution, there are no Rail Roads.

They have become sensible too that their lit the cottages and lots which have advanced in value 25 or 30 per cent within the last year, are destined to rise still higher, if Louisiana is reported, to SINK IN VALUE Below their cost, and to become tenantless and worthless. No people are better capable than our German population of consulting their interests, when not blinded to them by the arts of selfish, reckless and corrupt politicians.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 31, 1852.

An immense indignation meeting will be called at Philadelphia to-morrow night, in order to pronounce against the recent discoveries about the FOREIGN INTERFERENCE employed to elect Pierce. Belmont, Rothchild's agent and Austrian Consul proved engaged in a conspiracy. An immense indignation meeting will also be called at Baltimore to morrow night.

☞ If the Telegraph works well, we hope to announce our friends in to-morrow's paper that NEW YORK, PENNSYLVANIA and OHIO have gone for SCOTT, and that LOUISIANA has help ed to render the victory more signal.

"Those more nate the brosch, dear friends once more." Remember, A FULL VOTE IS A WHIG VICTORY!

GRAND RALLY.

THE LAST NIGHT.

ot night witnessed the magnificent Whig demonstration ever held in New Orleans— Thousands on thousands of the friends of SCOTT and GRAHAM thronged Canal street, occupying square after square, until the dense mass seemed to be absolutely without limit. At the main stand, that intrepid and patriotic Whig H R W HILL, acted as President, assisted by a large number of Vice Presidents. The s eakers were Judge OLIVER, RANDELL HUNT, J W PRICE, J. R. CARRELL, N. B. JENNINGS, J. P. BENJAMIN, E. BERNUDEZ. At the second stand, CHAS. M. WATERMAN acted as Chairman. HENRY HAYS, COL. WHEAT, C. F. DERUS, E J CARRELL and J. G. NOEL were the orators. The speaking was well timed, energetic and inspiring—the enthusiasm was immense and the vast multitude were animated by the brightest hopes and expectations. It is impossible to describe the magnificent and imposing character of this glorious demonstration. It was an augury of the splendid triumph which, we trust, awaits us to day.

Washington Monument.

Let every VOTER, Whig or Democrat, go to the polls to-morrow prepared to contribute at least A DIME for this grand national object Let not NEW ORLEANS be dishonored on that occasion.

N O. MEDICAL AND SURGICAL JOURNAL.—We are indebted to the editors for the November number of this able publication.

SCOTT BARBECUE.

In lieu of incomprehensible importance that the friends of Gen. SCOTT should VOTE EARLY. Having deposited their tickets, they will be at liberty to fulfil the duties of good Whigs, by stirring up the sluggish and apathetic. Reminded, by voting early, they will avoid the crowds which beset the polls at a late period in the day. Therefore,

VOTE EARLY!

READ YOUR TICKET.

All sorts of fraudulent schemes will be resorted to, for the purpose of injuring SCOTT and GRAHAM. Among them is the alteration of the Whig ticket, by placing "SCOTT and GRAHAM" at the head, and substituting the names of the Democratic for the Whig electors. In order, therefore, to be sure that he is voting right, let every Whig READ HIS TICKET. This is a necessary precaution, and we trust it will be observed.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEES.

It is expected of every Scott man, who has been appointed on a Vigilance Committee, that he will conscientiously fulfill the trust reposed in him. It is his bounden duty to call on the laggard Whig residing in his precinct, and bring them to the polls. If he knows of any who have failed to vote, let him see in person to their performance of this high and solemn duty. Let not the Vigilance Committees linger about the polls. They can do no good there. Let them, on the contrary, after voting themselves, SCOUR THE WARDS and bring up the voters. That is their mission to-day. Let it be accomplished.

CHALLENGING COMMITTEES.

The challengers must do their duty to-day, firmly, COOLLY, FEARLESSLY. Attempts will undoubtedly be made to get spurious votes into the ballot box. To prevent this the services of the challengers will be called into requisition. They must not leave the polls, but must patiently abide at their posts, and do their duty calmly but resolutely. Fearful from the State of Ohio. He was a Delegate to the Whig National Convention of 1852, and as such he ardently advocated the nomination of Winfield Scott. At a meeting of the Whig members of Congress, of which an abolitionist from Massachusetts (the Hon. Orin Fowler) was president, convened for the purpose of nominating a candidate of Scott, and appointing a Whig Central Committee, the Hon. Lewis D. Campbell was chosen to the confidential post of one story. This shows in what esteem he is held by the Whig party. He has always been an abolitionist, and hence his anxiety for Scott's nomination.

Now, for his testimony. On the 20th of July, 1852, the Hon. Lewis D. Campbell addressed, from Washington city, a letter to his constituents which was published in the Lebanon Star, an abolition Scott paper. From this circular we take an extract which we submit to the country without comment:

"The editor of the Herald, published in Washington, has made a most unprovoked attack upon me. If I had the power, I would, at this time now, without neglect of my official duties, to reply through the press. At sure by a day as possible after the adjournment of Congress, I will give notice of a meeting in Wilmington at which I will take occasion to defend myself and Gen. Scott from the aspersions which the editor has attempted to cast upon our characters, and will attempt to show that he is a disunionist, and will attempt to show that he is a disunionist, and will attempt to show that he is a disunionist. I have only to ask my constituents, and especially those of them called 'free soilers,' that which, in their characteristic liberality, they will readily grant—a hearing before they make up their judgments.

"I have been elected twice by free-soil votes; I am the representative of a free-soil district, as I know Gen. Scott to be with me on the subject of slavery; he is a friend of liberty, platform or no platform; and if we can muster votes enough in Congress to repeal the fugitive slave law, as I believe we can, it is within my knowledge that Gen. Scott will sign the law. Not so with Gen. Pierce; he has been actively sold to the South and to the dealers in human flesh and blood as ever Filmore and Webster were.

LEWIS D. CAMPBELL.

Now, Messrs Editors, I am the editor of the Lebanon Star, and pronounce the concluding paragraph of the above letter an interpolation by the editor of the Union—or, in plain phrase, an unfounded falsehood, got up by him, on the eve of the election, to injure Gen. Scott at the South. The first paragraph contains the whole of Mr. Campbell's letter, as published in the Star of March 6, 1852, a copy of which I send you, marked, for your inspection.

Yours, &c. W. H. P. DENNY,
Editor Star, Lebanon, Ohio.

Austria in the Field for Pierce.

The annexed private circular, which was handed round to certain parties in New York a week or two ago, has been furnished us for publication. Mr. AUGUST BELMONT, whose name is appended to it, was the CHARGE D'AFFAIRES of Austria, at the time when HUNGARY, after having been unceremoniously dethroned by the Webster letter, quitted the United States in disgust, and entrusted the American flag to the care of Mr. Hulsemann. It is in perfect keeping, that the defenders of a HAYNAU—the miscreants who tortured Hungarian women, and put thousands of brave soldiers to the sword—should be anxious for the defeat of the Hero and patriot—WINFIELD SCOTT:

NEW YORK, October 2, 1852.

SIR — You are especially invited to meet with us on Tuesday, the 5th inst., at 8 o'clock P. M., at Stuyvesant Institute, second story, back room, Broadway, opposite Bond street, for the purpose of devising measures to ensure the election of Gen. Franklin Pierce, and Wm R King, to the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States.

Signed AUGUST BELMONT and others.

MEXICO.

By the brig Atheron, Captain MATONEY, we have received files of papers from the city of Mexico to the 7th October.

Nothing final has been concluded in regard to the various propositions for the establishment of a carriage way and Railroad across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec. On the 5th inst.—the day when they were to be unsealed—none of the bidders did not recognize his proposition, it having been made on three sheets, and but one appearing in the hand of the Commissioners—Proceedings were thereupon suspended, until the Government could be consulted. The papers of the latest date do not state that any further action had been held in the matter.

There has been some fighting in Orizaba between the insurgents and the National Guards The latter lost five men killed and eleven wounded. It was expected that the engagement would be renewed.

The Apache Indians are committing depredations in Sonora.

The Government has approved Count Cortina's project for opening a Railroad between Mexico and Tlalpan.

The rebel Rebollede is still at large, at the head of an organized band. He was recently beaten by a party of the Government troops and compelled to fly.

MARINE DISASTER.—The schooner L. F. Rogers, Captain Ashby, arrived yesterday from Brazos Santiago 25th ult. Capt. Ashby reports coming over the Bar, at that port, struck very heavy, and on the 26th inst., off Vermillion Bay, while lying too, under closed reefed fore and main-sail, was struck by a squall from the SS. West, carrying away the fore and main masts, jibboom and every rag of sail on the vessel—lost small boat and quarter rail, when Capt Ashby rigged jury masts and made the Passes on Saturday morning and arrived yesterday in tow of the towboat Panther, at the lower Pass tow Tier.

ROBBING ON SHIP BOARD.—The ship Lydia, Capt. Soule, arrived yesterday from Philadelphia, had her cargo broken into by her crew during her passage to this port. Capt. Soule discovered the robbery by finding silks, laces, hats and shoes strewed about between decks. And to wash down the dry goods, &c., they broke into the hold again last evening, while coming up the river, and robbed the liquor casks. Capt. Soule had them all secured and sent to Prison on his arrival.

Florida Election.

Different accounts have been given of the result of the late election in Florida for Governor and Representative to Congress. The Democratic prints, out of the State, have asserted, with great apparent confidence, as if they had authentic information, that Mr. WARD, the Whig candidate for Governor, and Mr. CABELL, the Whig candidate for Representative to Congress, had both been defeated. A careful scrutiny of all the returns of votes received, including the reported majorities gathered from the Florida newspapers of both political parties, leaves it a question of doubt whether Mr. CABELL or Mr. MAXWELL, the Democratic candidate, is elected. The vote is so close that the official returns will alone settle the question. Mr. WARD is probably defeated by about one hundred and thirty or forty votes. A carefully compiled statement of the authentic returns and of the reported votes now before us gives the following majorities:

	Cabell, W	Maxwell, D.
West Florida,	329 m.
Middle Florida,		122 m.
East Florida,	4 m.
South Florida,		199
	333 —	321 —
	321
Cabell's Majority	12

The aggregate vote cast is much less than at the last Presidential election.

OHIO.—The Cincinnati Gazette of Tuesday last gives the official and reported majorities in the several Congressional districts at the recent election in Ohio. They foot up as follows:

Democratic majority	13,700
Whig	16,118
	2,418

It is the opinion that the official vote for Congressmen will not show a Democratic majority in the State of over 5,000. This is thinly can be easily overcome.

THE CRESCENT CITY.

Mr. Conrad's Letter.

[By the Morse Southern Line.]

The following copy of a letter addressed by Secretary Conrad to Gen. Law, Esq., proprietor of the Pa ke Wall line of Steamships, in relation to the Crescent City difficulty at Havana, was transmitted hereby telegraph to our respected fellow-citizen, Samuel L. Peter, Esq. We have been permitted to publish it, as it relates to a matter in which New Orleans feels much interest:

"DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, Oct. 30, 1852.

SIR—Your letter of the 26th inst. has been received. That of the 6th inst., to which it refers was addressed to this Department by Mr. M. O. Roberts, a passenger of the steamship Crescent City, and gentleman was requested to repair to Washington (he did so, and had a long conversation with me in relation to the occurrences at Cardenas. He, therefore, fully apprised that the subject has engaged the earnest attention of the Department.

"I have only to add, in regard to your own letter that as soon as the Department could obtain authentic information of the occurrences referred to, there were made the subject of a communication to the Government of Spain. When an answer to that communication is received it will probably be made public in the meantime I must be excused from giving you any information or advice on the subject.

"You may rest assured, however, that neither the honor or interests of the country will be neglected.

"I am, sir, very respectfully, your obed't serv't,
C. M. CONRAD, Acting Secretary.

"To GEORGE LAW, Esq., New York."

BALTIMORE, October 30, 8 P. M.—Senator Berrien, of Georgia, publishes a letter, strongly advocating Gen. Scott's claims to the presidency.

It is reported that Mr. Jonnier, of Maryland, has become back to the Scott cause.

The talk now from Whigs of this city are now turning strong for Scott.

PADUCAH, October 30.—Nine more Clifton, from Louisville, passed here to-day, bound for New Orleans.

The above despatch shows conclusively that the message of General ARMSTONG published in the Courier of yesterday, and the pendant to it which appeared in the Evening Delta, are ROORBACKS of the first water, intended to operate on the Whigs, and to induce Whig filibusters to oppose SCOTT. It won't do. As test as the poison is circulated, the Whigs send the antidote after it. CONRAD's letter does speak for itself. It asserts as that "neither the HONOR nor the INTERESTS of the country will be neglected."

SCOTT'S NOBLE GENEROSITY.—In 1836 Fish or Ritchie, the veteran Democratic editor, pronounced the following just tribute to Gen. Scott, in the Richmond Enquirer.

"There is so much of noble generosity of character about Scott, independent of his skill and bravery as a soldier, that his life has really been one of romantic beauty and interest. You recollect his conduct when on his way to take command of the army against the Black Hawk war. The corps he had with him were all strickon down with the cholera, before he reached them, and when he first saw the conduct Did he leave them in their fate, and fly to the army of the gallant and accomplished Atkinson, who were passed friend, in order that he might shield his fame, the glory which he had gained? Not a thought of the kind. He was just then pressed on by the desire to be doing to relieve the suffering, and he stopped among the dying and the dead, regardless of the danger of the disease, and remained there for several days and nights to nurse them from the grave—to the imminent peril of his life. His noble conduct was the talk of the army—it was on his lips. But he told his magnanimity. In this course of Gen. Scott's life will be found the key to all his conduct. Nothing that is great and noble escapes him. He

Mr. Webster and President Fillmore.

The Republic of the 30th ult., says: The following letter was yesterday addressed by the President to the Heads of Departments, in relation to the death of Mr. Webster and the steps to be taken in connexion with that melancholy event:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON,
Monday Morning, October 25, 1852.

GENTLEMEN:—The painful intelligence received yesterday enforces upon me the sad duty of announcing to the Executive Departments the death of the Secretary of State. Daniel Webster died at Marshfield, in Massachusetts, on Sunday, the 24th of October, between two and three o'clock in the morning.

Whilst this irreparable loss brings its natural sorrow to every American heart, and will be heard the sound of our borders with mournful respect, wherever civilization has entered, none will find its transcendent intellect and faithful patriotic service a theme for praise, it will visit with still more poignant emotion his colleagues in the Administration, with whom his relations have been so intimate and so cordial.

The fame of our illustrious statesman belongs to Hegloumity—the admiration of it to the world.—The record of his services will inform future generations, not less than its utterance has enlightened the present. He has bequeathed to posterity the richest fruits of the experience and judgment of a great mind conversant with the greatest national concerns. In these circumstances it will indicate a just regard for the memory of the dead, and a proper tribute to his exalted merits, to add to the present opportunity to pass such marks of respect as may be entitled to the character of the illustrious dead.

It is expected that Mr Fillmore and several of the Cabinet will be present at Mr. Webster's funeral.

Boston, October 25—1½ P. M.

The death of Mr. Webster is the engrossing topic of conversation in this community. Every token of mourning are going up all over the city. The Merchants' Exchange, Post Office, and all the public buildings are already draped.

Lastly by her commander, Lieut. Hunter, who has at his own request, been relieved from the command of the U. S. steamer Princeton.

City Intelligence.

ALL SAINTS' DAY.—Yesterday was generally (save by politicians) observed as a holiday, and the beautiful and time honored custom of visiting the city Cemeteries and of strewing with flowers the narrow houses of the dead, received more than ordinary share of attention. The tombs of children were visited by parents, the tombs of parents by children, and the tombs of wives by husbands. Many re-unions of youth and age, for the revival of tender memories, over the dear dust of those who have passed away into that long calm sleep which knows no waking." It is indeed a lesson to pride, suffering, toiling humanity which is calculated to disturb the reveries of pride and envy, and instill in the breast the dew drops of forgiveness. May each pass such lessons be learned.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—On the opening of the court yesterday, Logan Hunter, U. S. Attorney, announced the death of Hon. John McKinley, one of the Associate Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States; of the Hon. Henry Clay, one of the Hon. Daniel Webster, and having conveyed the sorrow of the Attorneys of the court in June last, and on meeting an adjournment as a mark of respect to the deceased, paid a touching tribute to the character of the latter. Judge Campbell responded to by his Honor Theo. H McCaleb. The court then adjourned until Wednesday next.
