

THE DAILY BEE, PUBLISHED BY G. F. WILSON, No. 100 N. 3rd St., N. O., LA.

THE DAILY BEE

Friday Morning, Sept. 9, 1853. For Congress, Second District.

G. H. HUNT.

For the State of Louisiana, JOHN R. KING, of New Orleans, and J. S. LEWIS, of New Orleans.

THE BEAUTY OF BENEVOLENCE.

Who measures the extent of good, says the poet, is he who measures the extent of the world by the extent of his heart.

PROTECTION TO CITIZENS ABROAD.

In a great deal of good sense, and in a great deal of good feeling, the American people have been called upon to consider the rights of their citizens abroad.

COMMERCIAL.

There has been some inquiry for coffee, and the market is somewhat quiet. The price of coffee is about 15 cents per pound.

RECREATION FOR THE YOUTH.

The youth of our city are in need of recreation, and it is the duty of the government to provide for them. The city authorities are considering the establishment of a public park.

ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGES IN NEW YORK.

The New York Courier, a paper which does not state facts without being well informed of the sources of its intelligence, has published an account of the proposed changes in the administration of New York.

THE PARTISAN.

The Partisan is a new paper which has been published in New Orleans. It is a weekly paper, and its contents are of a partisan nature.

THE VARIETY OF THE MONTH.

The variety of the month is a collection of short stories and poems. It is published by the New Orleans Association of Authors.

TRAGEDY IN REAL LIFE—INFANTICIDE AND SUICIDE.

Within a few weeks, no less than four young women have committed suicide in New Orleans. The first was a young girl named Mary, who was found dead in the bay.
