MRW YORK, Sept. 26, 1833.

MESSRA. EDITORS:—From my long silence you meet have cense to the conclesion ere this that I have journeys' even somewhat further than Gotham, and sechhar really have the case. I have been resticating to my heart's contest in the Northerr portion of the State and in Casada, and returning through Saratoga, I reached here precisely at the moment when it was impossible almost, for love or money, to obtain a realing place. Every hotel and boarding house was crammed, especially with Southern travellers, so much so that good armshairs command a premium, and a cot in a parior in ompany with twenty odd others was a positive uxury. Auti spating something of the kind, I wrote for a mom in advance, and arriving I usual myself comfortably housed at the St. Nicholas. NEW YORK, Sept. 26, 1853.
