I have all sways been the defender and advocate of the rights of the South as guarantied by phe Constitution of the United States. I was born and educated in the South. I studied and pareed my protession beer. I have lived here until the snown of time have been connected, and whom I have dearly loved, have lived here. Here are my friends and relations. Here my brothers and sisters. Here repose the bones of my bonoved father and of my beisved mother, and here, when my spirit leaves this world, I hope to lay my own. For weal or woo, for life or death, my fate is with the South. Sate while such are my feelings to the Seath, I am,
