☞ The foundation of my preference, is, that, Mr. Fillmore has administered the Executive Government with signal success and ability. He has been tried and found true, faithful, honest and conscientious."—HENRY CLAY.

☞ *If there be those, North or South, who desire an administration for the North, as against the South, or for the South as against the North, they are not the men who should receive our suffrages to me. THE NORTHERN MAIL failed yesterday from Philadelphia.

BRECKINRIDGE, WICKLIFFE AND SLAVERY.

Mr. WICKLIFFE endeavors to avoid the charge of opposition to the extension of slavery, which he has committed himself to by his unconditional endorsement of Major Breckinridge's avowed speech delivered for the purpose of uniting all slavery Democrats of the South, by asking the aid of his ardent friends. ROBERT E. MCHARVOR and R. HARRISON. As these gentlemen have published in Col. STEWART'S letter, Mr. WICKLIFFE is altogether officious and impertinent. Dr. HARNEY is more to the point. His evidence was referred to in the letter of Col. STEWART. Desiring, however, to give the Governor perfectly fair play, we annex the letters as we find them in yesterday's Courier.

LETTER FROM DR. HARNEY.

BATON ROUGE, LA., Oct. 3, 1856.

To the Editor of the Natchez Weekly Ch.

SIR: You have asked me to give the particulars of a conversation between Colonel R. C. Stewart and yourself, has been referred to me.

I call your attention to that portion of the conversation which related to the opinions of Hon. John C. Breckinridge as to the extension of slavery.

You understood distinctly that you stated, in reply to a question put, that you endorsed the views of Mr. Breckinridge, and you further stated that the opinion of that respectable gentleman was in favor of the extension of slavery by the strong arm of the government; and further, that he was not attached to the doctrine of non-intervention by Congress with the question of slavery in the Territories, and that this was the doctrine of the Democratic party. I am sir, very truly your obedient servant,

B. F. HARNEY.
