THE DAILY BEE,
PUBLISHED BY
G. F. WERLEIN & CO.,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.
G. F. WERLEIN, C. MAURY,
H. BUYERSEN, N. DUPUOY.
DAILY PAPER, (one year in advance) $12 00
WEEKLY PAPER, semi weekly, (one year in advance) 5 00
Casual subscribers must give one week's notice of stop before they can be allowed to discontinue.

The New Orleans Bee.

OFFICE, 83 CHARTRES ST. NEW ORLEANS, FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 7, 1856. VOL. XVII—NEW SERIES. VOL. XXX—WHOLE NO 10.1

THE DAILY BEE.

THIS MORNING, NOVEMBER 7.

Subscriptions by the Week.—The carriers of the BEE are authorized to receive subscriptions by the week, at the rate of 25 cents.

Mr. J. OLIVE is the only person authorized to receive accounts in the city for the NEW ORLEANS BEE.

THE NORTHERN MAIL yesterday failed to arrive in this city.

A BAD SIGN.

While the progress of liberal doctrines need be watched, that the circulation of the Weekly Tribune has attained the enormous amount of 270,000. There is nothing like the full calibre of this journal to astonishing popularity. The matter is edited with ability, but the suggestions in this respect than those of Commerce, the Herald, the Sun or other New York papers. It is a model of enterprise, having correspondents, domestic and foreign, bringing news of all kinds with expedition and fullness: yet it is equaled in these points of journalism by half a dozen others, and far ahead of all its cotemporaries in having a circulation greater probably than all of them combined!

This is easily solved, and is a sad comment on the depraved and perverted sentiment of the North, for it is at the same time that the Tribune chiefly circulates among the rural districts. The Tribune is a mere sensation affair, and wields its influence legitimately resulting from ample and solely as an anti-slavery paper. As such, it is the most earnest and capable, the most consistent and fiery and zealous, and the most unscrupulous. Its readers and its need for an unlimited supply of excitement, is a barbarian and a savage, and to torture suffering victims bears the wail of his victims as the whip are the delicious vivacities and mintier flavor maintains itself on the principles which it has reached. It is a peculiarly North American phenomenon, a similar spirit pervading the readers. There is no doubt that a reaction exists, but it is not likely to be long continued and extraordinary activity, arising from an occasional harmless excitement. The object of the Tribune is and assiduously to present sectionalism, to create a distrust and to foster its strength. It will succeed. It has a great repugnance to the North into a vio-lent action. It has built up and is in existence which a few years ago was a dream. A similar spirit pervaded the readers. There is no doubt that a reaction exists, but it is not likely to be long continued and extraordinary activity, arising from an occasional harmless excitement. The object of the Tribune is and assiduously to present sectionalism, to create a distrust and to foster its strength. It will succeed. It has a great repugnance to the North into a vio-lent action. It has built up and is in existence which a few years ago was a dream. A similar spirit pervading