THE CASE OF MR. KALLOCH.

[illegible] has been vir[illegible] the decalogue by the [illegible] our readers scarcely [illegible] the trial of the Rev. [illegible] on a charge of adult[illegible] ere of the jury to [illegible] sibly not aware that [illegible] pend to this event, [illegible] of the Tremont Tem[illegible] which the elders of [illegible] the following resolution: [illegible] have carefully weighed [illegible] has been brought for[illegible] charges alleged against [illegible] Kalloch, and we [illegible] have [illegible] serve manner our min[illegible] integrity as a man, [illegible] to resume the public[illegible] as our pastor and [illegible] is not cordially pledge[illegible] support and influence [illegible] the dark clouds of his [illegible] cleared.

[illegible] unbounded reverence [illegible] spiritual guide, they [illegible] hundreds to defray Mr. [illegible] during the late trial. [illegible] the particulars of this [illegible] The testimony, which [illegible] had paraded with mu[illegible] columns of the Boston [illegible] too filthy and obscene [illegible] But we did so [illegible] ing back of us perusal, and [illegible] at never to charge [illegible] ions established, it [illegible] the Rev. Mr. Kal[illegible] was the late, conclusive [illegible] which we could not [illegible] mate's wife, and only [illegible] ion-like attempt upon [illegible] the perpetration of the [illegible] the offender was [illegible] the strongest possible ev[illegible] sent to publish our [illegible] pel matter. Of the proofs [illegible] art suffice it that [illegible] ce could not pos[illegible] d of the offense in [illegible] whatever, not her[illegible] nection, and impene[illegible] d yet this lecher, thie[illegible] ess shepherd, stained [illegible] a trial in which [illegible] and the persevering [illegible] sel, and the a[illegible] his behalf could [illegible] disgrace—instead of [illegible] in disgrace, [illegible] security and reinsta[illegible] ...
