THE DAILY BEE.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 29.

THE NORTHERN MAIL came through yesterday with the latest dates.

AUGUST ELECTIONS.

Several exciting political contests will take place during the first week in August. In Alabama and Texas State officers and members of Congress are to be chosen; in Kentucky, a Secretary of State and members of Congress; in Missouri, a Governor; in Tennessee, a Governor and members of Congress; in North Carolina, members of Congress; in Nebraska, a delegate to Congress, and in Iowa a vote will be taken on the adoption of the new Constitution, involving the question of negro suffrage.

In Alabama there is hardly a struggle. Democracy has everything its own way. The anti-Walker Democrats are here and there, making a show of resistance, but the Administration is too powerful in that party stronghold to offer much chance of success to the seceders.

Of Texas we might almost say ditto. Old SAM HOUSTON, who is battling on his own account as a self-nominated candidate for Governor, will, we presume, be beaten by from three to ten thousand votes, though his ancient prestige and popularity, and independent position will give him some votes that properly belong to his Democratic competitor, GOV. RUNNELS. We think both the members of Congress from Texas will be Democrats; though EVANS, (A.) in the Western District, will make a good run.

Missouri is the theatre of a very exciting contest, between ROLLINS (Whig and Independent) and STEWART, (Democrat.) The former will be supported by all the opposition, including large numbers of Benton men, and in spite of the Democratic strength in the State, the result is thought somewhat doubtful. The canvass is marked by extreme bitterness of feeling on all sides.

In Kentucky another fierce struggle is in progress. The Democrats won the State last November, and are determined, if possible, to keep it. The Americans are equally resolved to wrest it from their adversaries. The fight rages in all directions, but especially in the Fayette District—so long represented by HENRY CLAY, whose son, J. B. CLAY, is now the Democratic candidate for Congress, opposed by Mr. HANSON. Our impression is that the Democrats will lose, as compared with the Presidential election, and gain as compared with the last State election.

In Tennessee there is an ardent contest in progress; though, we think, the Democrats can hardly be worsted. They have held the State for some three or four years, and have won over numbers of old-line Whigs, who do not share the convictions of the American party. Still, Tennessee is one of the most uncertain States in the Union, and her political conduct is so materially influenced by local and personal considerations, that it is never very safe for either party to calculate confidently on her vote.

South Carolina, where the CHISOLM went over to the Democracy, has been pretty constant in following in the wake of that erratic gentleman. Hence we infer that at the election next month, the opposition will not be able to accomplish much; they may possibly elect three out of the eight members of Congress, but are more likely to choose but two.

The election in Iowa is interesting, simply because a strong, and we trust successful effort will be made to defeat the clause in the new Constitution, which confers the right of suffrage on negroes.

Capt. JOHN MCGOWAN, of the steamship Empire City, arrived here yesterday, having in charge the Cali'ornia and Havana mails. Mr. DENISSON, purser of the Empire City, with his usual courtesy, forwarded to us files of California, Isthmus and Havana papers, with memoranda of news, &c., for which we tender him our thanks.

AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICS' FAIR ASSOCIATION.—By an advertisement in another column it will be seen that books of subscription are open at the office of the Association, 81 St. Charles street. We call upon all citizens friendly to the cause of progress, to call and enroll themselves.

SARSAPARILLA.—We invite attention to the letter of Mr. C. BARNARD, a respectable citizen of Asheville, Louisiana, addressed to Dr. HEBARD, and acknowledging in the most unqualified terms the extraordinary efficacy of the Sarsaparilla Lozenges in radically curing Mr. H. in spite of a disease which the physicians had declared beyond the hope of remedy. This is strong testimony on behalf of Dr. HEBARD'S great medical discovery.

It will be perceived by another announcement in our columns that Dr. HEBARD has been appointed by the Royal Academy of Medicine at Madrid sole agent for the sale of the celebrated Gaseous Sarsaparilla Digestive and Purgative Waters. These are two distinct preparations, particularly expressive in the taste and effects on operation. They are adapted to the treatment of a multitude of painful and annoying disorders, detailed in the advertisement to which the reader is referred. We notice that the Sarsaparilla remedies of Dr. HEBARD, in their concentrated form, are obtaining a wide spread, legitimate and well merited success.

FROM BRITISH GUIANA.—By the arrival of the bark Montezuma we have files of the Georgetown (British Guiana) Royal Gazette to the 24 of July inclusive. The question that seems to engross public attention there just now is the importation of coolies, and the immense inritable and other evils attendant thereupon. The effect appears to have been to discourage coolies from coming to the West Indies. No such disinclination prevailed with respect to the French islands. The emigration agent at Madras having proposed certain terms for a passage back to India after five years' industrial residence in British Guiana, seemingly in excess of his instructions, the Governor had published a decree confirming the agent's promise.

MEXICO, TEHUANTEPEC, &c.—Gen. of the Ballistas en San Antonio is as follows:

The instructions to Mr. Forsyth in relation to the negotiation of a treaty with Mexico, embracing several important subjects, are probably to be sent out through a special messenger by the next packet. Parties in Mexico, both Americans and citizens of Mexico, and also English residents, are largely interested in some of the subjects of the negotiation, and it is well known that they have heretofore exerted much influence upon the Mexican government in all negotiations relative to American affairs. It is to be presumed that they will be unanimously active on this occasion.

A great effort will be made, no doubt, to apply any sum of money which we may offer in lieu of territorial and commercial concessions to the payment of English, as well as Mexican claims, as was provided for in the treaty negotiated last fall by Mr. Forsyth. But English claims must be provided for the existing government as an indispensable to President Comonfort to enter into such a treaty as would be acceptable to this country. He may conclude a treaty, as far as Mexico is concerned, by his own power, as president dictator, at any time previous to next September, when the constitutional government of which he will be executive chief, will be inaugurated. After that time a treaty must, in this country with the constitution, receive the sanction of a portion of the Congress, which would cause delay and opposition, and might defeat the treaty. It is taken for granted, therefore, that no effort will be made to procure President Comonfort's ratification of a treaty before September next. It is not to be taken for granted that such a treaty as may be obtainable from Gen. Comonfort will be acceptable to the Senate, even if it should be so to the President. In the Senate it may undergo modifications which may require its return to Mexico, and its submission to the Mexican Congress.

The original Tehuantepec treaty, which was intended to confirm the Harnd Co. Company in their rights under the Garay grant, was altered by our Senate, and was thus lost.

That many objections may be made to a treaty providing for the acquisition of territory, or for the adjustment of claims, &c., may be judged from the treatment which the Gadsden treaty received in that body. It was first rejected. After its reconsideration it was finally ratified in a mutilated shape, but not without a sort of mutual understanding and personal pledge among Senators that this should be the last purchase of territory from Mexico. The author of the treaty must be very apparent in order to secure the constitutional assent of the Senate.

Any provision in regard to Tehuantepec would, therefore, be much safer if it should be in a separate treaty.

MISSPORT.—The Opelousas Courier has the following:

On Tuesday last, Deputy Sheriff Rogers passing through the little village of Grand Coteau, perceived that the summit of the roof of a little uninhabited house was in flames. Having given the cry of alarm, he dismounted, broke open the door of the house, and there, naked as Adam before the first sin, was an individual standing in the middle of one of the rooms, motionless, and unheeding to all appearances, of the danger which he was in of being burnt to death in his own house. The house was soon entirely destroyed by fire. It appears that Snyder, the owner of the establishment, is subject to somnic attacks, and it is supposed that it was by one of those moments that he must be under the influence of this disease. He was arrested and lodged in jail on the 22d inst., to await his trial before the next District Court.

SUMMARY OF THE FORTNIGHT'S NEWS.

The State.

Politics have been the all-engrossing theme of conversation during the two weeks which have elapsed since the departure of the last mail steamer. The election of Mr. LECOMPTE as the Democratic State Convention has already taken place in most of the larger counties, and at the previous period in the history of the State has there been witnessed so much excitement at primary meetings of the Democracy. The struggle was between the Administration and Broderick wings of the Democracy, John B. Weller being the Gubernatorial candidate of the former, and J. W. McCORTLE of the latter. So far as returns have been received, the Weller delegates are greatly in the majority, and there is now no doubt that he will be the candidate for election with a numerical force sufficient to give him the nomination on the first ballot, provided, however, his forces are not weakened by the multitudinous applications which have been heretofore brought to bear so successfully on Democratic politicians. The Convention meets in Sacramento on the 14th.

The Republicans hold their convention at the capital on the 5th, and it is expected that full delegations will be present from most of the counties. There is not the remotest possibility of their achieving a victory at the ensuing election, even although the Democracy split, of which there is some probability. They, however, seem determined to maintain their organization as a party, and no doubt will, if they put their full strength on the day of election.

Intense heat has prevailed all over the State during the fortnight, but now the weather is cool and delightful.

On the 20th ult., heavy rains fell throughout the interior, a phenomenon of rare occurrence in June in California, although showers have been witnessed occasionally as late as August. The crops were not seriously injured, and the prospect now is that they will be garnered in good condition, after having yielded an abundant harvest.

Mining is carried on as successfully as ever, and new discoveries are constantly chronicled, attesting of capitalists is still being directed to quartz enterprises, and vexatious since abandoned for want of money to sustain them, are being worked to advantage. Machines for pulverizing the requisite materials for quartz crushing are far greater than ever before, and the machinery is constantly improved. Companies engaged in this branch of mining are generally doing better than ever before. The Quartz Miners' Convention and reporting upon the Quartz Miners' Association, reported pro tem on the 13th.

A fire occurred in Marysville on the 15th ult., which destroyed twelve frame buildings. Loss, $12,500.

A fire in Grass Valley, on the 16th, burned property to the amount of $2,000.

Great interest still continues to be felt in mountain wagon roads, and men and money are at work. Two coaches now run regularly between Placerville and Carson Valley. Contracts for grading the more difficult sections of the route have been let, and in a few weeks a good road will be ready to connect with the National Road that is to have the famous Carson Valley for its terminus.

The Trinity River route, also the Oroville route, are both feasible, and over them stages have been driven with comparatively little difficulty.

Increased attention appears to be directed to the importation of thoroughbred stock, and a number of splendid bulls, cows, merino sheep, &c., have lately arrived in excellent condition.

The pecuniary affairs of the State look rather more cheering. The Treasurer announces that within sixty days he will be enabled to pay all audited claims against the State in cash. There is now a prospect that the scrip system will be abolished.

A large force is in contemplation from Sacramento to Oakland, opposite this city. The proposed route reduces the distance between the two places to sixty miles.

The act providing for a stamp duty, to be levied on bills, orders, and other papers used in mercantile operations, went into effect on the 1st instant.

The Cahuilla Indians have been committing great depredations upon the Mormon settlements in San Bernardino, by running off and slaughtering their stock. A detachment of Saints had gone in pursuit of the red men.

Nine Sulphur Springs are the fashionable resort, and the elegant hotel is rapidly filling up with parties and individuals from every part of the State. The Big Trees and Yo Semite Falls also attract many of our tourists thither.

The City.

Since the steamer of the 20th ult. our city has been remarkably quiet, and the news of the past fortnight will contain little of general interest to the reader. Business affairs generally are dull. The weather has been uniformly warm and pleasant.

A Coroner's inquest was held, on the 19th ult., upon the body of Catherine Herring, alias Howard, alias Marshall, who committed suicide on the Wednesday previous, by taking laudanum. The deceased was 25 years of age, and a native of Baltimore, where her parents are said to reside.

On the 22d ult., a burglary was perpetrated on board of Clark street, between Jackson and Pacific, caused in, in consequence of the piles having become worn through by the salt water worms which infest our harbor. Forty barrels of lime were precipitated into the bay.

On the 23d ult., Bradford A. Davis, a native of Boston, aged 37 years, committed suicide at the Empire Hotel, on Oregon street, on the 22d inst., by cutting his jugular vein with a carving knife.

A man named Irvine A. Armstrong fell dead in the station-house on the 23d ult., from the effects of suffering of the brain.

Charles H. Peterson, who kept an exchange and assay office at No. 124 Sacramento street, committed suicide on the 24th ult., on two charges of grand larceny, in appropriating to his own use money placed in his safe on deposit, while in charge of forgery of a draft for $5,000. The Grand Jury have found bills of indictment against him.

The Commissioners of the Funded Debt of the city of San Francisco made their sixth annual report to the Board of Supervisors on the 23d ult., together with a statement of the receipts and expenditures during the past year. The amount of bonds outstanding on the 31st of June, 1856, was $1,499,000. During the past year there has been redeemed $72,000, leaving a balance outstanding on the 30th ult. of $1,478,000. The interest on which has been provided for the city during the fiscal year of 1857 and 1858, is $14,760.

A man named George Adolph, a German, aged thirty-five years, was found drowned in the bay, near Stockton street, on the 25th ult. Deceased leaves a wife in this country. He was a machinist by trade, and had once been foreman of a foundery in New Orleans. Poverty and depression of mind caused him to commit suicide.

On the afternoon of the 25th ult., a fire broke out in a two-story frame house on Geary street, near Keany, owned and occupied by Mr. Henry Platt, Deputy Sheriff. The house and furniture, and valuable papers, to the amount of $7,000, were destroyed.

J. Walter Walsh, editor of the Sunday Varieties, was attacked, on Montgomery street, on the 25th inst., by Charles Cook, a policeman, and knocked down and severely cut over the eye. Walsh's pistol went off accidentally in the struggle.

The dead body of a man named Martin Asqui, a native of Lower Pyrenees, in France, was found in a well, sixty feet deep, on the alley leading from Post to Butter street, near Keany. Deceased was about twenty-six years old. Depression of spirits, consequent upon pecuniary losses, caused his suicide.

Salt Lake.

We have news, via Carson Valley, to May 8th, which is, however, but two days later than previous advices. Brigham Young had not returned from his Northern tour. The spring had been damp and cold, and vegetation backward. The organ of the Saints is decidedly mum on the subject of their internal dissensions.

Seneca.

Recent rich discoveries of gold have been made near Mazatlan, and the rush thither was great. The gold is very similar to that found in Mariposa county, but the diggins are by no means extensive.

China.

By the arrival of the Wizard at this port we have received forty-seven days' later news from China. It is of less importance than usual. There had been engagements near Shanghae, between the Imperialists and rebels, and also between an English vessel of war and sundry Chinese junks; but further than these there had been little fighting. Rice was very scarce and high, and in the districts about Canton a great suffering and distress prevailed amongst the poorer classes.

The emigration hither from the "Flowery Kingdom" is greater than ever. The Wizard brought over 700 almond-eyed passengers, and some eight or ten vessels are on their way from Hong Kong with thousands more of these agreeable accessions to our population.

Oregon Territory.

The people of Oregon have voted with great unanimity in favor of calling a constitutional convention, for the formation of a State Constitution, and the organization of a State government; and simultaneously with this, delegates have been chosen for that purpose. The convention is to be held in the latter part of August.

The official returns of the election show that the majority for Lane as delegate to Congress will reach nearly two thousand. The Democrats have also been successful in the election of a majority of their territorial representatives.

The Rogue river Indians are threatening to attack the whites at Umpqua, and are reported on their way thither.

Washington Territory.

No overt acts of hostility have been committed by the Indians in that Territory, although they sweat vengeance against the "pale faces" for waging war against them last winter, when the crew of the Massachusetts killed a number of their race.

Business throughout the Territory was good.

Panama.

Our dates from Panama are to the 20th inst. The Fourth was observed by the Americans there and at Aspinwall in a becoming manner. On the 5th inst., the U. S. frigate Independence received a severe stroke of lightning in her mainmast, causing considerable damage.

From the South Pacific.

By way of Panama we have advices from Valparaiso to the 15th, and from Callao, to the 26th of June. The Chilian Congress had assembled and were discussing the treaty of union between Chili, Peru and Ecuador.

The British iron built ship Allen sunk at her anchorage in the Bay of Valparaiso, while discharging.

The yellow fever was increasing in the city of La Paz, Bolivia. Montevideo was suffering dreadfully from the ravages of this disease.

From Peru we learn that the revolution had made little progress. The government forces and insurgents were within a few miles of each other, but have not engaged in any conflict.

Central America.

The steamer Panama, at Panama, brings later intelligence from Guatemala and other States of Central America.

Mr. W. D. McCracken, American Consul at La Union, died on board the Panama on the 7th inst., while the ship was lying at Punta Arenas.

COSTA RICA.—The Panama Star and Herald says:

On the 27th ult. Messrs. Webster and Harris arrived at San José, for the purpose of endeavoring to make a contract for the transit for the world's commerce by the lakes, including Morgan, Garrison and others. It was generally believed that they would not succeed, as the Costa Ricans are not to be stranded by the multitudinous applications which have been heretofore brought to bear so successfully on European politicians. The Convention meets in Sacramento on the 14th.

The Republicans hold their convention at the capital on the 5th, and it is expected that full delegations will be present from most of the counties. There is not the remotest possibility of their achieving a victory at the ensuing election, even although the Democracy split, of which there is some probability. FROM SALT LAKE CITY.—We have, says the St. Louis Republican, of the 23d inst., news from Salt Lake City to the 3d of July. Mr. John R. Murdock left that city at 12 o'clock of the 3d July, and reached Leavenworth on the 19th, making the distance in fifteen days, travelling. Hon. M. came in as conductor of the mail, delivered it at Independence, and then proceeded on his way to this city, in advance of the mail.

Mr. Murdock brings a favorable report of the condition of affairs in Utah Territory.—General prosperity and uninterrupted peace prevailed. Some rumors of the military preparations making for the expedition against Utah were current, but did not excite much, if any, alarm.

The first train of emigrants was met at Green river, and the last were passed at the crossing of the South Platte. They were in excellent health, and making rapid progress on their journey. The grass all along the route was very fine, better than has been known for many years.

Mr. Murdock crossed the South Platte on the 10th of July, and there learned that the troops under the command of Col. Sumner had gone up the South Platte in pursuit of the Cheyenne Indians. Only one war party of Indians, about forty in number, and claiming to be Brulés, was met, and they behaved in a very friendly manner.

A FEARFUL ACCIDENT.—The New York Herald, of the 21st inst., says:

A fearful accident occurred at the Hoboken ferry, on the New Jersey side, last evening about 8½ o'clock. As one of the ferry-boats was coming into the slip the bridge gave way, thereby precipitating over fifty persons. Fortunately the engine of the boat was being reversed at the time, and a heavy surf being thrown towards the sunken bridge, the passengers, with the exception of one poor woman, were all washed up out of danger. Several persons were severely wounded, while others lost their watches, purses, and hats, and other articles of clothing. The name of the woman who was drowned is Bridget Reilly.

BODY FOUND.—Boston, July 21.—The body of Benjamin Chandler, of Wilmington, Del., who has been missing since last autumn, has been found in the White Mountains, near the Glen House.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

THE FLOOD OF YESTERDAY.—It is generally supposed that when Noah set sail, some six thousand years ago, as captain and part owner of the good ship "Ark," and with an assorted cargo of live stock, duly consigned, went cruising here and there in search of dry lands, he enjoyed an opportunity of witnessing many more than rarely occur. But Noah never saw New Orleans after a two hours' summer rain. If Niagara attracts visitors from the antipodes to witness the sublimity of its grandeur, we opine that no person why they should not extend their trip to New Orleans, to view the "lions" in that enormous aquatic lion, the Carondelet canal, after a two hours' rain. We cannot say whether Noah ever saw Orleans after a two hours' rain, but we do not wish to have ourselves absent for such a spectacle or scene.
