AN INDEPENDENT TICKET.

[illegible] yesterday a letter addressed [illegible] number of the citizens of [illegible] Mayor G. T. BEAUREGARD, in [illegible] solicited to allow his name [illegible] as an independent candidate for [illegible] Mayor at the ensuing election. [illegible] declare that they are impelled [illegible] to request by their deep interest [illegible] spirit and good name of New [illegible] by their desire to rescue the [illegible] of the municipal government [illegible] political influence of party politics. [illegible] as a gallant, in a dignified and modest [illegible] the candidature with the closest [illegible] to be free to remain independ- [illegible] of the term.

[illegible] comment is not unexpected. For [illegible] the American nomina- [illegible] there [illegible] rum-rout of an independent [illegible] report had designated [illegible] as the candidate who would [illegible] the principal office. From [illegible] was appended to the corre- [illegible] there is reason to believe that a [illegible] will be made in behalf of the [illegible] ticket. We recognize among [illegible] a mass of Old Line Whigs, a con- [illegible] number of Democrats, and many [illegible] who at one time were either [illegible] of the American party, or were [illegible] to vote with that organization. [illegible] is true that the Independents, [illegible] doubtless, of strengthening their [illegible] have nominated candidates for Re- [illegible] three out of the four Districts, a [illegible] for Street Commissioner, and can- [illegible] Aldermen and Assistant Alder- [illegible] have certainly availed them- [illegible] a fair period for the experi- [illegible] the dominant party in our city has [illegible] the evils from dissension and dis- [illegible] much ill-feeling seems to be har- [illegible] the friends of the defeated as- [illegible] that party is formidable when [illegible] and the presence of an organized [illegible] may induce it to settle its family [illegible] close up its ranks, and prepare for [illegible] contest.

[illegible] we expressed our concern [illegible] absence of every symptom of [illegible] and endeavored to direct the [illegible] the citizens to the importance of [illegible] and healthful administration of our [illegible] affairs. The appearance of the inde- [illegible] ticket, if it accomplishes nothing [illegible] of probability, arouses the com- [illegible] its supine slumber, and create [illegible] excitement to ensure [illegible] of public opinion at the polls [illegible] more definite and decided than [illegible] for several years. Thus [illegible] that whatever ticket prevails, [illegible] the result of an undoubted [illegible] of popular sentiment, and the [illegible] that they have been vested [illegible] by a majority of the bona [illegible] the good city of New Orleans.

MEXICO.

[illegible] yesterday a brief letter from [illegible] correspondent at the cap- [illegible] It will be seen that the Zulo- [illegible] be reduced to desperate [illegible] the news of war:

MEXICO, May 5th, 1858.

[illegible] Heaven, I am spared the [illegible] long any more battles for the [illegible] country, for some time to come. [illegible] the party are taking breath, whilst [illegible] are secret and decisive conflicts [illegible] [illegible] Vidaurri, what has made [illegible] west and one of the divisions is [illegible] and has fled to Texas. [illegible] the garrison of the latter, and [illegible] movements which may be sent [illegible] has only about 4,000 [illegible] at the head of the North. The [illegible] are mounted, abundantly [illegible] of their late [illegible] what further triumphs [illegible]

The House bill to estab- [illegible] agricultural colleges was taken up and [illegible] that the special order prevented its [illegible] that the bill to repeal the boun- [illegible] bounties enjoyed in the bank and cod [illegible] was taken up, discussed, and [illegible] without amendment. The con- [illegible] bill of the Homestead bill consumed [illegible] remainder of the day.

In the House the bill making appropria- [illegible] of the expenses of the govern- [illegible] was reported to the House, and the [illegible] was sustained thereon. It will [illegible] disposed of to-day.

[illegible] Wilkes and Post Office.—Captain [illegible] engineer in chief, in charge of the [illegible] of construction, has prepared some [illegible] tables for the information of members [illegible] Congress. He shows that seventeen cus- [illegible] houses, post-offices and court-houses [illegible] been finished since 1850, at a cost of [illegible] $1,111,000. The net amount of duties and [illegible] collected at these establishments is [illegible] $[illegible]. There are now under con- [illegible] structure, buildings for these purposes, at [illegible] $[illegible], at which the net income [illegible] collected is $[illegible],000. At six of them the [illegible] cost is greater than the amount ex- [illegible] pended.

It is presumed that Congress will take care to disallow all these [illegible] claims.

[illegible] The Concert for the benefit of the Camp Street Orphan Asylum, given on Tuesday evening, was a complete success. The [illegible] were all admirably executed, and were received with merited and enthusi- [illegible] applause.

[illegible] Miss DAVENPORT.—The Chicago National Union says: "Miss Davenport has been engaged by the manager of the French theatre in New Orleans to perform the character of Adrienne, in French, for six nights—a great compliment for an American artist, and speaks highly for the lady's acquirements."

The engagement must have reference to the reopening of the Orleans next season, as it has been closed as usual for the summer. The appearance of Miss Davenport in such a [illegible] part has been in prospect for some [illegible] months. It will be given in London by two companies, which makes their breach of insurance the speculation. The average loss in England, according to the statement of one of these companies, is about one half of one per cent. per annum on business capital of the country.

Southern Pacific Railroad.

The Memphis papers contain the annexed card from Dr. Fowlkes, a gentleman well known for his energy, and prominently connected with this enterprise:

With regard to the recent prejudicial movements in Texas, so far from being in bad of trust executed by the President of the company on the 10th of October, 1857, I have to request all persons heretofore authorized to ask or receive stock subscriptions to return all moneys received, to cancel all subscriptions received at the pleasure of those subscribing. This is just to them, and alike proper to agents and myself.

The trust deed referred to, as held by able legal gentlemen, is so far as called upon without exception, to be void, and a sale under it will convey no title; and further, that a bill filed in the Federal Court of Texas will reinstate the stockholders of the company to road rights and franchises. This is the opinion after full and thorough investigation of the charter, trust deed, and the acts of eminent lawyers.

It is but frank to admit that such a sale, and the litigation necessarily ensuing between purchasers and stockholders, must prove highly disastrous, if not destructive to this great work. The facts touching this and all other matters imparted to the stockholders and the patriotic masses may be expected at the meeting of shareholders, on the 2d of June, in New Orleans.

A Filibuster Recruit.

Of all the papers in the Union, the New York Herald presents a splendid filibuster advertisement, which he sends into an administration and national movement. Hear how deftly it is done:

The principal dogma of the filibuster creed, which is the extension of the boundaries of the Union, is becoming a part of every politician platform in the country. Gov. Banks is endeavoring to weld the New England filibusters to his fortunes, on the ground that the manufacturing and commercial interests of Massachusetts find their true development in the extension of our limits, and the consequent increase of markets for their trade. The Black Republicans, under the counsel of Seward, are looking to Mexico as a large plank for their platform in 1860, and claim the sympathies of the filibusters "on a purely commercial bottom." Mr. Doolittle and the Freesoilers of the Northwest look to the acquisition of Cuba and our progress southward as the means of opening a large market for their grain and meats, which are now excluded from the countries south of us by adverse tariffs. Humphrey Marshall and the Southern Know-Nothings hope yet to give life to the opposition—to the Democratic party in the South—by innoculating it largely with the filibuster spirit.

The leaders of the national filibusters will carry the cause of their followers to the support of the administration, in its policy of acquiring Cuba and conferring a stable government upon Mexico. Under a suspension of the neutrality laws, they may have the national sanction for liberating the gem of the Antilles; or under a convention with Mexico, they may obtain the national guidance and support in the reorganization of a firm government for the Mexican republic. The Cass-Yrissarri treaty will open to them a field in Central America where they can turn their swords into ploughshares, and the opening of Tehuantepec affords them an opportunity to convert their bayonets into pruning-hooks. If they can secure the support of the filibusters, gentlemen, they are bound to fall into the national ranks, and keep step with the music of the Union.

GREAT EXPOSURE IN WISCONSIN.—Official Corruption.—We find in the Milwaukee News a synopsis of the report of the committee of the Wisconsin Senate upon the question of the amounts expended during the session of the Legislature of 1856, to secure the passage of the bill apportioning the lands granted by the United States to Wisconsin for railroad purposes among the several roads. The great effort was to get a portion of the lands for the Milwaukee and La Crosse railroad. According to this report, all who voted for the land grant directly or indirectly received bonds or stock valued at from $5,000 to $25,000. The total amounts paid are said to have been as follows:

Governor of State, $50,000; Governor's private Secretary, $25,000; State officers, $20,000; Supreme Court, $1,900; 13 State Senators, $260,000; 66 Assemblymen, $660,000; Legislative clerks, $17,000; editors and others, $261,000. Grand total, $993,900.

This amount of bonds was given to secure the passage of the bill, and it will strike the public very strongly that it must be a profitable thing to hold office—in Wisconsin. These bonds, however, are worth little or nothing now, and the present managers of the company repudiate them.

EXCITEMENT IN BURLINGTON, (VT.)—There has been considerable excitement in Burlington, Vermont, for a few days past, on the subject of the removal of the remains of Gen. Ethan Allen. The ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the monument ordered by the State have been deferred, and the authorities of the town and the committee of the movement have made preparations to excavate to the depth of six or eight feet, in all parts of the family lot not known to be occupied by the remains of other members of the family, where the monument stood, without disturbing the slightest indication of human remains.

DEBT GRADUATION.—Subscriptions are pending up in New York for the capital of a new company called the Income Insurance Company, which is authorized to insure the payment of rents, and the interest of bonds and mortgages, and to engage in the business of owning houses, guaranteeing the payment of the rents.

The manly sense in which the entire property of the children of the negro, the infant, the idiot, the lunatic, the insane, is held inviolable, from the years of childhood, when provide supervision, careful and responsible, ceases of life, render the real interest of a reliable management certain, and gives to the owner of real estate of the slave property which the holder of the most public character may enjoy in the quietest receipt of his income.

The plan of insurance against insanity, by which a limited loss of reason, the result of accident, shall be covered by insurance, has already been in practical operation for some years in London by two companies, which make their branch of insurance the speciality. The average loss in England, according to the statement of one of these companies, is about one half of one per cent. per annum on business capital of the country.

Search and Seizure of American Vessels.

The President transmitted, on the 20th, to the Senate, in response to a resolution of that body, several official papers relating to a subject that is now engrossing attention throughout the country. The report of the Secretary of State to the President is as follows:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, 19th May, 1858.

SIR.—Since my dispatch No. 193, of the 12th instant, various statements have been made in the public papers, absorbing other causes of this forcible detention and search of American vessels by British armed ships of war in the Gulf of Mexico and on the adjacent coast. In every case where these reports have come to the knowledge of this Department, application has been made immediately to the proper authorities to procure from the captain a particular account of the outrage, with a view to make by the subject of redress upon this Government. Such answers to some of these applications have been received, and copies of them, agreeably to the annexed list, have been transmitted for your information, as well as for your prompt action. When others are received, you shall, in like manner, be furnished with copies, that you may be fully advised of the progress of these assaults upon our national rights.

In addition to these aggressions upon the high seas, another lamentable act of violence against several of our merchant vessels, said to be cleigh in number, by forcible entry and examination, has been committed by a British armed steamer, in the harbor of Nuevas la Grande, in the island of Cuba. The statements in the public journals contain the details of this transaction, but no authentic report on the subject has yet reached the Department, with the exception of a letter from the Consul-General of the United States at Havana, of which I transmit you a copy. Proper measures have been taken to procure all the necessary information upon which you will be furnished to you as soon as it reaches here. When all the facts are ascertained proper representations will be made, without delay, to the government of Her Catholic Majesty against the search of American vessels by the naval forces of another power within the territorial jurisdiction of Spain. The United States are satisfied that the government of that country will adopt the most efficient measures for their protection, and for according to the Spanish ports from lawless violence. Such protection they are entitled to, and if it is not found elsewhere, it must be found in the power of their own country. I am not informed whether any injury was sustained in consequence of the proceedings complained of. If there was, it will be expected that it be made good by the Spanish government itself, or by means of its interposition with the government of Great Britain.

These flagrant violations of the rights of the United States have excited a deep feeling through the country, and have attracted the attention of both Houses of Congress. Their continuance cannot fail to produce the most serious effects upon the relations of the two countries. The President confidently believes that the British naval officers, in the adoption of these high-handed measures, have acted without the authority, and have misunderstood the views of their government. But it is not to be seen due to the United States that their conduct should be disavowed, and peremptory orders issued to prevent the recurrence of similar proceedings hereafter. You will communicate to the Earl of Malmesbury the earnest expectation of the President that this subject should receive the immediate attention of her Britannic Majesty's government, and that the officers who have been guilty of these outrages should be held properly responsible for their conduct, and that, where pecuniary injuries have been suffered, the interested parties should receive prompt satisfaction.

You will also invite the particular attention of Lord Malmesbury to the occurrences at Saguin in Grenada, and to the just expectations of the United States that the measures of redress adopted by the British government upon this occasion will be such as to mark with the displeasure of the president of the officer whose proceeding have given a serious cause of offense to a friendly power, and to prevent a similar interference hereafter.

I am, sir, respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
LEWIS CASS.

George M. Dallas, Esq., &c.

A report from the Secretary of the Navy, dated the 19th inst., states that the United States steamer Fulton, Lieut. Almy commanding, has been ordered to cruise on the north side of the coast of Cuba, or such other portions as may be deemed necessary for the protection of American vessels on the high seas in search or detention by the vessels of war of any other nation. Orders have also been given for the immediate preparation of the razee sloop Savannah, at New York, and the brig Dolphin, at Boston, to join the Home Squadron, for the purpose of cruising in the neighborhood of Cuba; and the steam frigate Wabash, now fitting out at New York as the flagship of the Mediterranean squadron, has been directed on route to show her flag in these waters, and to protect at all times the persons and property of American citizens.

General Cass, on the 12th instant, instructs Mr. Dallas, our Minister at London, to call the attention of the British government to the aggressions complained of. The letter is as follows:

The accompanying papers, copies of the originals of which have just been received, will make known to you another outrage committed upon the rights of the United States by a British armed vessel, which calls for the immediate attention of the British government.

I am persuaded that, if the occurrences took place as they are stated, the conduct of the British officer will be disavowed and condemned.

I beg you would communicate to Lord Malmesbury the earnest desire of the President that this outrage, which seems to become more prevalent, of detaining and searching American vessels should be discontinued, and that peremptory and positive order for that purpose should be given and enforced. Such a measure is called for by important considerations, which will readily occur to you. I feel the government is determined to use all proper exertions for the suppression of the slave trade, it is not less desirous that the just immunity of the vessels of the United States upon the ocean should be preserved. Whatever may have been the character of the vessel called the Cortes, if she had papers showing her American character, she was subject neither to search nor capture by a British cruiser. I do not doubt but the facts reported will be fully investigated by order of the British government, and proper measures taken to prevent the recurrence of a similar act hereafter.

I call your attention, also, to the circumstances reported by the Consul-General at Havana, showing the existence of a kind of police system by which American vessels in that port are watched and interfered with, and have to request that you will bring the matter to the attention of the Earl of Malmesbury, with a view to the correction of the evil.

Transport of Africans to French West Indies.

The great irregularity of the West African mail steamers has of late interrupted the current of the history of the notorious but contraband for supplying the French West Indies with purchased Africans. The last arrivals, however, put us in possession of some additional facts quite conclusive as to the character of this traffic. Subsequently to the news that the Portuguese authorities had refused to allow the French purchase of negroes within the limits of the province of Angola, our readers may recollect that advices were received by the steamer of the imperial governments of France to Martinique and Guadaloupe. That may have been the mortality of the middle passage is not concluded. But it is known from other sources that 100 of the Africans so bought were consigned and furnished on the coast of one of these islands. Let us, therefore, assume that of the 1,000 bought, only 100 safely reached the French colonies. On their arrival the engagees ceased, by the terms of the arrangement with the imperial government, to be entitled to $30,000. Now, in what manner, in particular, an ex-slave, free from coercion, differs from an ordinary slave from adventure, punishable as felony by the laws of every civilized country, and denounced as crime against God and man by the Christian religion of France and Yarcos!—London Daily News.

A HENRY CLAY IN FRANCE.—A Parisian correspondent of the New York Tribune says, speaking of names and nobleness, that he read this curious extract from a provincial paper:

"Last Sunday, the Sub-Prefect of the Ogive-Inferieure, in the young Henri Clay, the grandson of the great Henry Clay, whose name is known and honored throughout the whole of the United States. The young Henri, inheriting all the noble sentiments of his illustrious grandfather, has already given proofs of a generous heart. He has just saved from drowning a young man who was bathing in the Seine, and who was in danger of perishing. The young Henri Clay, who is only fifteen years of age, has received from the Minister of Marine a gold medal, as a reward for his courageous action."

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

ARCHBISHOP CHANCE MISAPPREHENDED.—Mr. Reynolds has now on exhibition at Vanderbeck's Museum, No. 107 Chartres street, one of the most splendid paintings which has ever been seen in New Orleans. It was suggested by the Philippine Islands, at the coast of China, where it is known by the name of the "Caribou," was published by Mr. Reynolds at Acapulco, Mexico, whence it has been made to travel all the way by land to Tehuantepec, in this State, and hence by the steamer Empire, last evening, to this city. We are assured that it is the first and only one ever imported into the United States, and so far as our recollection serves us, such an animal as this Caribou is unknown in the nomenclature of the bestial kingdom outside the realms of the Celestial Empire. But to some attempt at his description.

This Caribou, to our eye, is something more like an ordinary horse than anything else, with the exception of the head, which is the very image of the Bishop of Orleans, without wearing any risk of personal violence, or indignity, so simple means and precautions will be taken to secure them against the outrages which have been so common at the elections heretofore. Notice to Voters!

IT is highly important that all voters who have not already registered, should, at once do so as no party day, as well as regular day things is there for as our recollection serves us, such an animal as this Caribou is unknown in the nomenclature of the bestial kingdom outside the realms of the Celestial Empire. But to some attempt at his description.

This Caribou, to our eye, is something more like an ordinary horse than anything else, with the exception of the head, which is the very image of the Bishop of Orleans, without wearing any risk of personal violence, or indignity, so simple means and precautions will be taken to secure them against the outrages which have been so common at the elections heretofore. By order of the

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE of the Independent Party.
