

OFFICE, 83 CHARTERS ST.

We Americans are apparently the most excitable people on earth. We are the slaves of rumor. Rumors are surges and winds of tempests carry us away. We are the slaves of fear and uncertainty, of vague and uncertain power, provided it appeals to our passions. We grasp at any advent of spectre. We shudder at the thought of what would follow if we were to let go of our hold. And we live like slaves, we are the victims of the cheats and deceptions innumerable and the experience which gives us wisdom for others to profit by.

A curious instance of our propensity to yield to excitement is the gold fever now raging in California. Reports of the great wealth of the country have been so much exaggerated that we are inclined to believe that there is more gold in California than in all the rest of the world.
