UNDER WHICH KING, BEZONIAN?

The feud between the Douglas and anti-Douglas wings of the Democracy of the South waxes fiercer and stronger every day. On one side we have the Washington Union—as a quasi organ of the administration, assisted by the Charleston Mercury, the Mobile Register, and perhaps a few other journals of minor prominence, engaged unremittingly and assiduously in the task of reviling the Illinois Senator, denying his claims to be considered a Democrat, denouncing him as a traitor and a recreant, and thereby lending additional vigor and animation to the efforts of the Black Republicans to defeat him. On the other we behold four-fifths of the Southern Democratic press, and, we believe, the independent journals almost without exception, advocating the cause of DOUGLAS as between him and LINCOLN; not perhaps concurring in every respect as to the reasons why he should be supported, but unanimous in the opinion that he is a thousandfold better entitled to Southern sympathy than his opponent. We can perceive no approach whatever to a reconciliation between these conflicting views. On the contrary, the nearer the contest, the more embittered seem the feelings enlisted.

We must acknowledge that throughout this exciting canvass the claim of Senator DOUGLAS to Southern support has appeared to us unimpeachable. No candid journalist will deny that DOUGLAS has, with the single exception of his course in reference to Kansas during the last session of Congress, come up as fully to the standard of Southern soundness as any Northern Democrat. Nor can it be questioned that even now, while prosecuting the contest in Illinois, his tone and language towards the South are invariably those of a friend and well wisher. Now opposed to Judge DOUGLAS is ABRAHAM LINCOLN—a rabid, truculent, unrelenting Black Republican—a man who fights under a banner inscribed with the motto, "No more slavery extension"—a man who, if elected to the United States Senate, would never give a vote directly or indirectly on the side of the South—just such a man, in fact, as Wm. H. SEWARD, HENRY WILSON, or JOSHUA R. GIDDINGS. How any Southerner can hesitate for a single instant in his choice between two such candidates is to us a matter of unfeigned astonishment. DOUGLAS may not be all we could desire, but LINCOLN is every thing we ought to detest. DOUGLAS is certainly not as devoted to the South as HAMMOND, or JEFF DAVIS, or J. P. BENJAMIN; but LINCOLN overflows with gall, wrath and resentment against this section of the Union. Is there a doubt hanging a doubt on in selecting between the two candidates?

It is said, forsooth, that there is a third candidate—a true blue Democrat, with a stainless record—one in whom the South might repose unwavering confidence, to wit: Judge SIDNEY BREESE. We have our doubts whether Judge BREESE is a warmer and truer friend to the South, or a better Democrat than Judge DOUGLAS, but admitting the assertion for the sake of argument, how stands the case? Judge BREESE is a man of straw; a mere puppet set up by a feeble fraction of the Democracy of Illinois in opposition to both DOUGLAS and LINCOLN. His success is utterly out of the question. He will not receive a tithe of the Democratic vote of the State. The utmost that can be hoped from his nomination is that he will withdraw from DOUGLAS a sufficient number of Democratic suffrages to enable the Black Republican party to triumph at the ensuing election. In other words, a small minority of the party in Illinois have combined against DOUGLAS, so virulent and unforgiving in their hostilities, that for the pleasure of wreaking on him their hatred and their vengeance, they are perfectly willing to contribute their aid to promote the chances of one who is not only his antagonist, but the sworn foe of Democracy. And yet we find Southern sheets, styling themselves Democratic, so reckless of the future, and indifferent to the fatal consequences of their course, as to launch all the thunders of the church on the devoted head of DOUGLAS, and encourage and applaud a schism which not only threatens him with discomfiture, but imperils the success of the only party in the free States that still cherishes a sentiment of justice and fair dealing towards the South.

This sort of reasoning is conclusive to our minds. We have no special love for Democracy. Perhaps we are inclined, from early training and education, to work to it but a scant measure of justice; but if we had ten times the lively interest in its doctrines, we should give them to Judge DOUGLAS, and should hail his triumph as an auspicious omen for the South.

The resolutions adopted by the New York Democratic State Convention are eight in number. The first panegyrizes the administration of Mr. BUCHANAN; the second refers to the settlement of the Kansas question, and its removal from the arena of Congressional discussion; the third repudiates sectional parties; the fourth repels the idea that a preponderance of the Northern States in Congress is a victory over the South; the fourth opposes any change in the naturalization laws; the fifth favors the enlargement of the Erie and lateral canals; the sixth declares the opposition incompetent for the duties of government, and unworthy of the confidence of the people; the seventh sustains the necessity of a convention to amend the State constitution; the eighth glorifies Democracy in general, and that of New York in particular. Not a word about the tariff, which is the leading issue in many other States.

The Western papers inform us that the Hon. William H. English, the author of the Kansas conference bill, has made a speech at New Albany, Indiana, in which he repudiates one of its leading provisions. He is reported to have declared that he will vote for the admission of Kansas whenever she presents herself with a constitution legally framed and approved by the people of the Territory. This repudiation of that clause of the bill which prohibits the admission of Kansas until she has sufficient population to entitle her to a representative is becoming quite prevalent among the Democracy. This policy, says the National Intelligencer, has been forced on them by the general denunciation of its unfairness, in connection with the other provisions of the bill. Is it not rather the result of a disposition to yield something to the anti-slavery spirit so prevalent at the North and West?

THE LAST FASHION—Ladies Getting their Hair Cropped.—The Milwaukie Wisconsin, of the 10th instant, says: To give some idea as to how the croppy style of hair cutting is spreading amongst the ladies in the city, one of our barbers says he has cropped three hundred and thirty ladies within the past three months. There seems to be a perfect rage on the subject with our young ladies.

AN English officer writes from India of the taking of a Rajah and the sacking of his palace. They found in the treasure vaults bags containing 320,000 rupees and £50,000 in gold, with jewels estimated at £300,000.

A NICE PRESENT AND A NICE SPEECH.—Dr. Magoon last evening lectured before the "Female Union Library Association," at Gloversville. A large audience helped the funds materially, and cordially greeted the speaker. At the close, the lady President, conducted by a gentleman, ascended the pulpit, saying: "In behalf of my associates, I present you these gloves. May your hands ever be as warm as your heart!"

Better that if you can! The Doctor was a little taken down by such mittens—so elegant pair, delicately ferred—but he promptly replied: "God bless you, madam, and your associates! I accept your present with pleasure, but I shall find less enjoyment in the use thereof, than in the beautiful kindness which prompts your gift."—Albany Transcript.

HAVANA.

ARRIVAL OF THE CAHAWBA.

The United States mail steamship Cahawba, J. D. Bulloch, commander, from New York via Havana, arrived yesterday morning, having left the latter place on the evening of the 20th instant. She brings a very fair cargo, but few passengers.

There is very little local news of interest or note in Havana.

Freights are very dull for the United States, and nothing for Europe.

The English screw propeller Mauritius, from Hong Kong, with Coolies, was lying at Havana. She is for sale.

Sugar—Stock 125,000 boxes; holders firm, and advancing in demands.

Exchange—London 15 to 15½ per cent. premium; New York 4 do; New Orleans 5 do.

The Cahawba has encountered very tempestuous and boisterous weather the entire passage from New York.

On the 20th, off the Moro, spoke the United States steamer Dispatch—all well. On the 22d September, lat. 27 15, lon. 87 55, exchanged signals with an American bark showing blue and white signals with white star, steering westward.

PASSENGERS—Dr. West, lady, 2 children and servant, Captain Olmsted, W. Creevy, J. A. Bique, M. Garcia, Juan Magoral, L. T. Stocker, N. Catolo, J. Riveroi, J. Brick, General Lamberg and lady, F. Barbot, J. V. Matan and lady, J. R. Cortunden, L. Laroche, W. Holt, A. Heuben, P. Gouis, A. Quinn.

Our files by the Cahawba are to the 19th instant. They are entirely destitute of interest.

The attempt of the New York Americans and Republicans to roll their two parties into one has proved a failure. This is its deserved fate. As nothing could be more odious, so nothing could be more unjust to an honest and intelligent people than such a coalition. Two parties, of principles and aims diametrically opposite—so far as real sentiments are concerned, as wide apart as the poles—undertake to coalesce, not for an object which under some circumstances would be laudable and justifiable, namely, the defeat of a common enemy to the principles of both—but with the base design of obtaining power under false pretenses, and of dividing, like bandits, those honors and emoluments of power which neither could obtain singlehanded, or by its own merits or claims upon public sympathy. Coalitions are always more or less offensive to good taste, sound judgment and honest purposes. Such as this are peculiarly revolting. The only coalition of parties which can upon any just grounds be approved is a union without sinking or sacrificing principle upon either side, for the defeat of unworthy and injurious measures of a third party, or the accomplishment of a common aim, and that aim a public good. A coalition based upon private and purely selfish aims, is a stain upon the public character; and its success is an almost irremediable evil. No State has been more deeply afflicted than Massachusetts by such unprincipled coalitions. The effects are visible in our tarnished honor, our depreciated credit, our degraded reputation, and our retarded prosperity. A union—not a coalition—of all good and true citizens is required to restore our beloved commonwealth to its wonted purity and renown.—Boston Courier.

THE SPANISH MISSION.—The Spanish mission is a little like the Cuban consulate—it seems to go a begging. Mr. Breckinridge declined it three years ago, when it was offered him by President Pierce; Mr. Soulé had any amount of trouble with it; and now, though Mr. Dodge is willing to return, Mr. Mallory and Mr. Benjamin, to whom it has been offered in succession, both decline accepting it. The reason of the latter's declension is doubtless his connection with the Tehuantepec improvement or contract. Who will now be selected is uncertain. It is intimated that the President may offer the Spanish mission to Mr. Belmont, of New York.

TO SPOIL A DAUGHTER.—Be always telling her how very pretty she is.

Instill into her young mind an undue love for dress.

Allow her to read nothing but works of fiction.

Teach her all the accomplishments, but none of the utilities of life.

Keep her in the darkest ignorance of the mysteries of housekeeping.

Initiate her into the principle that it is vulgar to do any thing for herself.

To strengthen the latter, let her have a lady's maid.

Teach her to think that she is better than any body else.

Make her think that she is sick when she is not, and let her lie in bed taking medicines when half an hour's out-of-door exercise would completely cure her of her laziness.

And, lastly, having given her such an education, marry her to a moustached gentleman, who is a clerk with a salary of $250.

Louisiana Items.

The Democratic Convention has nominated Thomas T. Land, of Caddo, as the candidate for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge Spofford. Hon. John Ray, of Ouachita, is announced as an independent candidate. The election will take place on the 4th prox.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.—The Alexandria (Rapides) American states that a negro boy had attempted to murder the overseer of Mrs. Hayworth, on Bayou Rapides. He procured a gun and fired at the overseer while the latter was in bed. Fortunately the shot lodged in the bed-post and pillow. The negro has been arrested.

The Natchitoches Chronicle says:

The weather for several weeks past has been well suited for cotton picking purposes, and the bolls are opening well. The shortness of the crop in this parish will necessarily shorten the picking season, and we are fortunate in the enjoyment of weather so favorable to planters.

The Attakapas Register has the following:

A most horrible murder was committed at Berwick Bay on Sunday night last. Mr. Joachim Como, overseer on the plantation of Dr. Rhodes, was called to the window at about 11 o'clock, and shot through the breast, causing death in about five minutes. The District Attorney took the matter immediately in hand, and on yesterday Amos, a slave belonging to Dr. Rhodes, turned State's evidence, and declared John, a slave also belonging to Dr. Rhodes, to be the one who committed the deed. They were tried yesterday, found guilty, and John sentenced to be hung on the first Friday of next month, and Amos to the Penitentiary for life. Other negroes are implicated in the affair, but as yet no certain clue has been obtained to their identity. Whisky, we learn, was at the bottom of the whole affair.

The Opelousas Courier says:

Four runaway negroes have been arrested on the Mermento river, in the parish of Calcasieu, making their way to Texas. They are now in the jail of Lake Charles. They say that they belong to Wm. Weeks, living on Weeks's Island, in the parish of St. Mary, we think.

TELEGRAPHIC.

INTERESTING FROM UTAH—Continued Return of the Mormons to Salt Lake City—Concealment of Brigham Young—Richness of the South Platte Gold Mines—Army Movements.—St. Louis, Thursday, Sept. 16.—We have advices from Leavenworth to the 13th inst., per U. S. Express Company to Booneville, of to-day.

The Salt Lake mail arrived at St. Joseph on the 10th inst., having made the trip in twenty days. The Mormons continued to arrive in the city from the South, and were entering upon their usual avocations. Brigham Young still keeps himself concealed, and lives in constant danger and fear of the vengeance of his own people, who have become greatly incensed at the unveiling of his numerous frauds. This confirms the former reports.

One company of troops had left Fort Bridger for Oregon, and others would leave soon. The Indians were all quiet.

Full reports confirm the news of the South Platte gold mines. Several traders and mountaineers were met, who said that they had been at the mines, and had in their possession many specimens of gold found there. They say that many miners, without tools, and no other appliances except tin pans, were getting $3 to $5 daily. Many traders and others were met en route to the gold regions.

Col. Beise's Battalion of Utah Volunteers, under Lieutenant Hill, arrived at the Fort to-day, where they will be paid off and mustered out of service. Colonel Cooke, Lieutenants Buford and Pegram, of the 2d Dragoons; Captains Gove and Dunovant, of the 10th Infantry, arrived this evening from Utah.

The 6th Infantry would leave Fort Bridger about the 24th August. Col. Canty, with two companies of 2d Dragoons, two companies of 10th Infantry and one company of 7th Infantry, was daily expected at Fort Bridger to relieve the 6th Regiment.

The company of Engineers had left for Leavenworth, and Captains De Saussure and Stewart's companies of cavalry would leave in a few days.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 17th.—A destructive fire occurred at 3 o'clock this morning on Front street, between Broadway and Ludlow. The fire was first discovered in a building occupied as a lard oil factory, and extended to Chenoweth & Co., commission merchants; Edw. Knight, mattress factory; French & Wilson, commission house; Riggs & Murray, paint depot; W. R. Fee & Co., lard oil works. All were destroyed. Some three or four houses besides these were damaged, but not to any great extent. The loss will probably reach $75,000.

DUEL IN VIRGINIA.—Richmond, Sept. 17th.—A duel took place this morning at Fairfield race course between O. Jennings Wise, of the Enquirer, and Hon. Sherrard Clemens, of Wheeling. Four shots were exchanged, when Mr. Clemens fell, having received a ball in the thigh. The wound, however, is not considered a dangerous one. The cause of the duel was an article in the Enquirer charging Mr. Clemens as being guilty of "an act of gross treachery towards Judge Brockenbrough perpetrated under the guise of personal and political friendship," and "abusing the columns of the Enquirer by requesting and obtaining the insertion of these same wilful misrepresentations." Mr. Clemens is the present member of Congress from the Wheeling district.

MAINE ELECTION.—Portland, (Me.) Sept. 16.—Colonel Johnson, Democrat, who came here from Belfast to-day, claims his election in the Third Congressional District, and says his opponents cannot count him down below 22 majority.

Speaking of the possibility of a visit to America by Queen Victoria, the London Times of the 1st instant says, not without a spice of truth:

In fact, we have not the smallest doubt but that the journals of Canada and the Union are entirely right in predicting for a Royal visit to America, when the fulness of time may bring about such an event, the most triumphant and unprecedented success. It is in the very nature of things that it should be so. No people are so attracted by Royalty as republicans, and it is perfectly possible that even the genuine loyalty of our own colonists might be altogether outdone by the exuberant transports of democracy. Nature is nature even in the New World, and no yearnings are so natural as those for things of which we hear much and have never seen. An extract from an American paper informed our readers yesterday how the President of the United States got out at a railway public house, pitched his coat and neckcloth over a chair, tucked up his sleeves, and "took his turn for a jolly good wash in the bar-room." "We took our admiration," says the editor, "of this scene of republican simplicity quietly with us into the cars for Baltimore, and mused with some complacency over the sterling honor of being an American citizen." Very probably; but our fellow-craftsman would have gazed, we suspect, if only for the novelty of the thing, with considerably greater sensation at the Queen of a mighty empire and the representative of a hundred Kings. The most forcible impressions are those made by unfamiliar wonders. Londoners are struck with American forests, Yankees with Westminster Abbey. Perhaps, too, that admiration of dignity and title which seem all but inherent in man—that passion which tinctures even rampant Radicalism with ready servility, and implants in every class of our society a respect more or less active for the class above it, may not be quite extinguished even in democratic America; and those who have no monarch of their own may feel all the more reverence, at least on the instant, for the monarch of another people. We are convinced, at any rate, that the reception of a British sovereign on the American continent would indeed be such as our cotemporaries predict, but the "difficulties" which the Canadians are compelled to recognize in the way of such an event are sadly destructive of the speculation. Berlin is far away for a Queen, though not too far for a mother, but Montreal and New York are further still, and, in spite of the telegraph, there is a stormy ocean between us and them.

ANOTHER BRIDGE ACROSS THE MISSISSIPPI.—We learn from the St. Paul Times that the Minneapolis and Cedar Valley Railroad Company contemplate the erection of a bridge across the Mississippi, at Fort Snelling, which, when finished, will be one of the longest and finest structures on the American continent, and probably in the world. It will be three thousand seven hundred and eighty six feet in length, with a span of one hundred and eighty feet from centre to centre of the piers, and ninety-seven feet above high-water mark, and will have an elevation of grade twelve feet higher at one end than at the other. The piers on which this immense structure will rest are to be built of stone obtained from the quarries near at hand, and will be walls of solid masonry, so firm and enduring that no rise in the river below will ever disturb the immense structure which rests above. It will be a truss bridge, with a double track passing over the top for the cars, while in the truss trunk will be a wagon road connecting Fort Snelling and Mendota. The estimated cost of the leviathan structure is near half a million of dollars, and we have every reason to believe that work will be commenced early next spring, and pushed vigorously through until completion.

AN ICHTHYOLOGICAL FACT.—Last Friday afternoon, a party of gentlemen, who were sitting on the piazza of the Mountain House, Lake Memphramagog, observed a bald-headed eagle hovering over something white. Mr. Jennings, the landlord, immediately dispatched a boat under the direction of Mr. Simpson Merrill, and the white object turned out to be a shad, of the extraordinary length of 26½ inches, weighing 4 pounds. That it had been killed by the eagle need not be added. It adorned the breakfast-table next morning. This is the largest shad ever caught on the lake. The marks of the eagle's talons were visible enough on the gills and sides of the fish.—Boston Journal.

FUGITIVE SLAVES ON THEIR WAY NORTH.—Two weeks ago three fugitive slaves passed through the city of New York on their way to Canada. One of the United States Marshal's constables arrested one of the men but Mr. Rynders ordered him to be discharged, as no warrant had been issued for his arrest. Mr. Rynders says that when the proper warrant is placed in his hands he will do his duty in cases of this kind; but he will not interfere unless he is called on by proper legal authority. The slaves came here by way of Philadelphia, but from what State is unknown. They are now probably out of the jurisdiction of the United States.—Journal of Commerce.

Lord Lyndhurst at Eighty-five.

Baron Rothschild, I hear, did homage to the justice of these gastronomic aspirations by a splendid banquet last week, at which most of the men in both Houses who have been most prominently engaged in advocating Jewish claims were gathered together. The dinner was as agreeable as one under such circumstances could be, and the guests in as high spirits as men who have fought a good fight, and now may justifiably indulge. But I hear from one who was present at what may fairly be considered a semi-public celebration that the gayest, the wittiest, the most convivial of the party—its life and soul—was not any of the younger men of the company, but one whom one is almost tired of calling the venerable Lord Lyndhurst. To be still, at eighty-five, first in the Senate and at the dinner table, was indeed an exceptional lot. His Lordship may well take, as I believe he does now, no inconsiderable pride in dwelling upon his great age. It is, however, a singular instance of the extent to which the oddest and most trivial weaknesses are found in the strongest characters, that it is only within the very few last years that his Lordship was most sensitive to any thing which implied that he was no longer young. Perhaps, indeed, in that there was something of the feeling which on one occasion led him to purchase from an engraver the plate on which his handsome features were, as he thought, disadvantageously depicted. Weaknesses or foibles apart, however, long may his Lordship live to delight his friends by his social qualities, and to serve the country by such weighty and authoritative exposition of great principle, whether of policy or jurisprudence, as he has given in the House of Lords during the present session on the Jew question; and, only the other evening, on the international question of the right of search and visit in times of peace.—Correspondent Manchester Examiner.

RELIGIOUS FAITH.—A young friend asks, in a letter, "If I should gain religious faith, and nothing more, by my pioneering, would I be paid for my troubles?"

Religious faith—reliance on God—put this, alone, on one side, and the whole world, without it, on the other, and we would choose it, even though the way to it bristled all over with thorns. Dear young friend! no price is too great by which you gain confidence in God. We cannot tell you of that peace, passing the power of imagination, the deep serenity in which the soul lives when resting in full assurance on the existence of God, conscious of his presence and his blessing. The world may scheme and fret, be tossed to and fro by tempests and terrors, writhing in doubt and distracted by fears; yet he who trusts God, looks up amid the whole, feeling that he is in a father's arms, and is safe. Undisturbed, his mind is able to trace his troubles to their sources; and thus he reads lessons where the faithless see only confusion. Yes, friend, though ten times these troubles, pressed down and heaped, were laid on you, if in learning to bear them submissively or remove them properly you acquire religious faith, it is true gain. Religious faith is the panoply of life. If one has this, nothing can harm him. His life is a charmed one. We speak deliberately.—Life Illustrated.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.—An Indiana court decided, in a controversy about a charge for advertising, that "the published terms of newspapers constitute a contract.—If work is given to newspaper publishers without a special contract contravening the published terms, the publisher can charge and receive according to the terms so published. It is not necessary to prove what the work cost or was worth; the publishers have a right to fix the estimate of the value of their columns, and, if so fixed, no other question need be asked, but the prices thus charged can be recovered."

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

THE FEVER.—The return of the Board of Health yesterday, for the twenty-four hours ending Wednesday noon, showed the mortality by yellow fever throughout the city to be 50; a decrease of 30 from the previous twenty-four hours.

CHARITY HOSPITAL.—There were nine deaths of yellow fever in this institution for the twenty-four hours ending last evening at six o'clock—five less than the day before.

A SOUP HOUSE FOR THE SICK.—All persons who wish to encourage the soup house, under the superintendence of the Good Samaritans, will confer a blessing upon the poor by sending in a small mite to his Honor Mayor Stith, at the Mayor's office, City Hall, who will see that the money is properly applied.

In 1853, Mr. Henry Bier, James Foggey, and other philanthropists fitted up a convalescent hospital, which rendered great service to the many who were discharged from the medical hospitals, as they would have died from pure want had not these humane gentlemen taken them under their care.

It is to be hoped that the ladies, who are always foremost in "holy charity," will aid the Good Samaritans in their undertakings to help the poor and needy.

NEGRO SHOT.—A slave, whose name is not reported, was accidentally shot on Wednesday night, in the Fourth District, by policeman Truxillo, who was in a tight place with a man named Martin Brown, whom he was endeavoring to arrest, and who had him by the throat. He drew his pistol and tried to shoot Brown, but instead of him, shot the negro, who was standing near by.

INQUESTS—Suicide and Drowning.—The Coroner held two inquests yesterday—one upon the body of George Bytel, a native of England, aged 60. Verdict of the jury—"Suicide by taking arsenic." The deceased, it appears, was a poor old man, who lived at the corner of Magazine and Calliope streets, and gained his daily bread by begging. Becoming tired, no doubt, in his old age, of his precarious existence, he took the fatal dose. Before, however, life was extinct a physician was called in, who endeavored, but in vain, to save him. The old man begged and entreated that he might be saved. He regretted the rash act when the pangs of death were upon him.

The other inquest was upon the body of an unknown white man, found drowned in the river, at the foot of Ursulines street. The body had apparently been in the water for some time, as it was in an advanced stage of decomposition. The deceased had on a blue woolen shirt and blue cottonade pants, with a common barrow belt around his waist. The body was picked up while floating down the current.

FALSE ALARM.—The fire alarm in the Second District, at ten o'clock yesterday morning, was without any foundation that we could discover. It was first rung by the bell at Jackson Square; but the first false alarm it has started of late. The persons in charge of that bell owe it to the firemen and to the community at large to be more careful hereafter in catching hold of the bell rope. Of course a false alarm is better than a real one for the public good, but then false alarms are utterly useless.

RECORDER SUMMERS'S COURT.—Assistant Recorder Munroe presided yesterday, as usual, but owing to sickness in his family, he had to postpone the fixed cases, and dispose of the new business as summarily as possible. He had not a great deal to dispose of.

Nancy, alias Patience, a slave woman belonging to Mrs. Segura, was sent before the First Justice of the Peace, for stealing $20 from the pocket-book of Thomas Pittman, whom she was nursing in yellow fever in a house on Calliope street, on the 17th inst. Bail fixed at $250.

Richard Howard, charged with creating a great disturbance on Rampart street, and smashing the windows of Mr. Richardson's house, was held for examination on the 27th. John H. Hanna, charged with carrying concealed weapons, and H. N. Addison, charged with assaulting Hanna whilst he was in custody of an officer, were held for examination on the 25th. The other arraignments were all of a petty character.

RECORDER WILTZ'S COURT.—Peter Bohl was arraigned, and held to answer in the sum of $750, charged by S. Frey with a breach of trust. Mr. Frey, who is foreman of Fire Company No. 10, charges Bohl, the treasurer, with having collected in his capacity as such four hundred and twelve dollars and one cent belonging to said company, and that he now refuses to hand over the same, and is believed to have appropriated it feloniously to his own use.

Henry Douns was examined and sent for trial before the First District Court under bonds of $1000, charged with an assault and battery upon the person of F. Bussy, on the night of the 9th instant, at the corner of Rampart and Orleans streets; striking him over the head with a heavy stick.

Patrick Halbert was examined upon the charge of arson preferred against him by Ambroise Chveller on the 13th instant, viz: with attempting to set fire to his residence, on Marais street, between St. Philip and Ursulines streets. The accused was discharged for want of proof.

Liza Reese was examined and fined $10, charged with assaulting Odile Lewis, f. w. c., on the 15th instant, at the corner of Conti and Villeré streets.

We are requested to call the attention of the trade to the sale of 100 cases Boots and Shoes, to take place THIS DAY, at 10 o'clock, at the auction rooms of Blache & Leaumont, No. 77 Chartres street. Terms at sale.

DIED,

Funeral Service.

The friends and acquaintances of the late CHARLES MELONCY FONIAT DUFOSSAT are respectfully requested to attend the funeral service which will take place on SATURDAY, September 25th, at the Archiepiscopal Church.

Great Cure, after the Physicians had Failed.

RUSSELLVILLE, OHIO, Jan. 19, 1855.

Dr. C. M. Jackson: Dear Sir—We would inform you that we are out of Hoofland's German Bitters, which are very ready sale. One of our neighbors has been doctoring for some time (we think about two years, with all the doctors in the country), but all of no avail. He looked as much like a dead man going about, as any thing we can compare him to. His disease appeared to be an overflowing of the gall. With hard persuasion, we prevailed on him to try your Bitters, with the promise to him, that if it did no good, we would charge him nothing for it, provided he took six bottles according to the directions, which he has done, and is now entirely cured, and has become a well man. This cure has created a great sale in this neighborhood. Respectfully,

EDWARDS & BROWN.

Ask for Hoofland's German Bitters, and take nothing else. See that the signature of C. M. Jackson is upon the wrapper of each bottle. These bitters are manufactured by Dr. C. M. Jackson, No. 418 Arch street, Philadelphia, and are sold by druggists and storekeepers in every town and village in the United States, Canadas, West Indies and South America, at 75 cents per bottle.

For sale, in New Orleans, wholesale and retail, by J. WRIGHT & CO., 21 and 151 Chartres street.

The history of Dr. J. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most remarkable medicine of the day, and the many cures that have been performed with it in cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, and other diseases arising from a disordered stomach or liver, place it at once among the most astounding discoveries that have taken place in the medical world. The diseases to which "Bitters" are applicable are so universal that there are but few of our friends who may not test their virtues in their own families or circle of acquaintance, and prove to their own satisfaction that there is at least one remedy among the many advertised medicines deserving the public commendation.

For sale by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere, and by J. WRIGHT & CO., 21 and 151 Chartres st.

A Valuable Medicine.

During the present week no less than six of our friends, who have been induced to try Professor De Grath's Electric Oil for rheumatism, in consequence of having seen this preparation advertised in our columns, have called upon us to state the result of their experiments. These persons assure us that their rheumatic pains have been entirely cured by a few applications of De Grath's Electric Oil, and they recommend its use to all who are afflicted with any of the diseases which it is designed to cure. [Prov. Advertiser.

It can be had of the agents here; see advertisement in another column.

For sale by J. WRIGHT & CO., 21 and 151 Chartres st.

McLEAN'S STRENGTHENING CORDIAL.—This invaluable compound, we are glad to know, has become the most popular remedy in the United States. Nearly every family keeps it on hand. They find it saves physicians' bills. A small quantity given in season will ward off fevers, or any prevalent diseases. See the advertisement in another column.

Look out for imitations of Lea & Perrins' Worcestershire Sauce. See advertisement of John Duncan & Sons.

Succession of the late Francis H. Cummins.

THE undersigned, having been appointed curator of said estate, hereby notifies all persons indebted to it to pay into his hands, and those who have claims against it to make them known to him during the ten days following this notice. F. FAZARE, 10 Chartres st.

BIENVILLE SEED OIL FACTORY.

P. MARTIN & CO beg leave to inform the public that an important improvement has been made in the manufacture of their Cotton Seed Oil, and that they are now prepared to offer to consumers a decidedly superior article.

Reports from distinguished chemists, both in Europe and America, have already stated that Cotton Seed Oil was in every respect satisfactory for lighting. The agents have been enabled, by the improvement alluded to above, to make the article equally advantageous for machines, as may be seen by the following certificates.

They appeal to that generous sympathy which a truly national establishment, destined to free the South from a heavy tribute to the North, cannot fail to awaken in the hearts of consumers, and they hope that public patronage, justified moreover by the excellence of their goods, will be extended to them.
