

The People vs. Demagogues.

There are abundant indications of an unbridled political revolution, the non-revolutionary states since the late Presidential election, despite the assumptions to the contrary by newspapers, politicians and demagogues. A revolution that could a new election be held, the actual candidates of the revolution would be the candidates of the actual party of the people, and not the actual party of the demagogues. This party would be the party of the people, and not the party of the demagogues. This party would be the party of the people, and not the party of the demagogues.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Latest from Montgomery—Enthusiasm at Reception of President Davis.

Montgomery, February 18.—The reception of President Davis at Montgomery was a grand success. The streets were lined with people, and the atmosphere was one of jubilation. The President was met by a large delegation of citizens, and he delivered a powerful address to the people of Montgomery. The speech was well received, and the people expressed their deep loyalty to the President and to the cause of the Confederacy.

Three Days Later from Europe.

Arrival of the steamer Africa. The steamer Africa arrived in New Orleans on Monday morning. She brought news from Europe, and it was learned that the situation there was still uncertain. The news was received with interest, and the people of New Orleans were kept informed of the latest developments. It was noted that the political situation in Europe was still unsettled, and that the people were looking to the future with some apprehension.

Presidents and Prisons.

News from the Southern States. The Southern States were still in a state of flux. The news from various parts of the South indicated that the people were still undecided. Some were in favor of the Confederacy, while others were still loyal to the Union. The political situation was becoming more complicated, and it was clear that the future of the South was still uncertain.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

Various local news items. This section contains various news items from New Orleans, including reports on local events, public works, and other matters of interest. It provides a snapshot of the daily life and activities in the city.

ST. JAMES HOTEL, NEW ORLEANS.

Persons who design visiting this city are invited to stop at the St. James Hotel. The hotel is situated in the heart of the city, and it offers comfortable accommodations and excellent service. It is a popular choice for both tourists and business travelers.

AMUSEMENTS.

MONDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 18, 1861.

THE BOWLING ALLEY. The bowling alley is open for business, and it offers a fine opportunity for recreation. The bowling is done on a high-quality surface, and the game is well supervised.

PARIS EXPOSITION.

Information regarding the Paris Exposition. The Paris Exposition is one of the most important events of the year. It is a showcase for the latest in art, science, and technology. The exposition is held in the Bois de Vincennes, and it attracts a large number of visitors from all over the world.

J. ALBERT, FASHIONABLE HATTER.

Advertisement for J. Albert, a fashionable hatter. J. Albert is known for his high-quality hats and his expertise in tailoring. He has a large selection of hats to choose from, and he is known for his attention to detail and his customer service.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

Various local news items. This section contains various news items from New Orleans, including reports on local events, public works, and other matters of interest. It provides a snapshot of the daily life and activities in the city.

STEAMBOATS LEAVING THIS DAY.

Table listing steamboats leaving on Monday, February 18, 1861. The table includes the name of the steamboat, the destination, and the departure time.

DRY GOODS!

Advertisement for dry goods. The advertisement lists various types of cloth, including cotton, wool, and silk. It also mentions the quality and price of the goods, and it provides information on where to purchase them.

AMUSEMENTS.

MONDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 18, 1861. THE BOWLING ALLEY. The bowling alley is open for business, and it offers a fine opportunity for recreation. The bowling is done on a high-quality surface, and the game is well supervised.

PARIS EXPOSITION.

Information regarding the Paris Exposition. The Paris Exposition is one of the most important events of the year. It is a showcase for the latest in art, science, and technology. The exposition is held in the Bois de Vincennes, and it attracts a large number of visitors from all over the world.

J. ALBERT, FASHIONABLE HATTER.

Advertisement for J. Albert, a fashionable hatter. J. Albert is known for his high-quality hats and his expertise in tailoring. He has a large selection of hats to choose from, and he is known for his attention to detail and his customer service.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

Various local news items. This section contains various news items from New Orleans, including reports on local events, public works, and other matters of interest. It provides a snapshot of the daily life and activities in the city.

STEAMBOATS LEAVING THIS DAY.

Table listing steamboats leaving on Monday, February 18, 1861. The table includes the name of the steamboat, the destination, and the departure time.

DRY GOODS!

Advertisement for dry goods. The advertisement lists various types of cloth, including cotton, wool, and silk. It also mentions the quality and price of the goods, and it provides information on where to purchase them.

AMUSEMENTS.

MONDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 18, 1861. THE BOWLING ALLEY. The bowling alley is open for business, and it offers a fine opportunity for recreation. The bowling is done on a high-quality surface, and the game is well supervised.