

Daily paper, well advanced.
Advertiser's copy will be accepted in writing when they can be allowed to the editor, and will be considered a subscribers' right to pay unless the notice is given of the fact.

NEW ORLEANS.
MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 8, 1861.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

The carriers of the Bee are authorized to receive subscriptions to our papers at the price of $1.00 a week, payable in all cases to the carrier themselves.

VARIOUS EXPEDENTS.

There has been much said of an expedition to the mouth of the Mississippi that we suppose it must be admitted that Mr. Lincoln's contemplated making an attempt to collect the revenue on the coast of the Atlantic, and to charter vessels to transport foreign ports. How is it to be done?

We shall do the task, and how he proposes to accomplish it, are questions which, we suspect, he himself would be unable to answer. These expedients will be used to Lend a hand.

The Unionists therefore consider that the custom dues levied within the ports, the rightful property of the Federal Government. But to enforce this theory is the work of Congress, and their hands are tied.

Washington, April 6.—The naval and military expedition, now at New York, is destined for Fort Pickens, but for blockade purposes.

The United States Government, however, has no power to blockade any port.

New York, April 6.—The U. S. receiving office in this city, which had been closed for some time, was again opened yesterday.

The United States Government stocks declined.

United States revenue cutter, Harriet Lane sailed from this port to-day under sealed orders.

United States steamer Powhatan left last night with three companies of troops on board.

The river has been cleared of obstructions by complying with the provision of the revenue laws. But this is only one of the difficulties to be overcome. The New York Evening Journal says: "The Southern commissioners have decided to concede the impracticability of the scheme. We cite the following passage from its article on the subject:

"The general expectation seems to be that the United States will board up the entire coast of the Southern ports in the beginning of the receiving State. Our only resource will be to collect the revenue in the little State of Florida alone. There are no ships in the harbor with him, and his army of appraisers, examiners, inspectors, weighers, gauges, etc., and their staff of clerks. The Morris will sail now, which will have enabled, with the help of the weather, to get away. What else is there required in a month's time? It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch."

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete condition, and waiting orders from Montgomery.

Washington, April 6.—There is no cause for alarm in the Southern ports.

It is not the intention of the Government to hold reinforcements at Fort Pickens or Fort Clinch.

The fleet which has just sailed from New York, April 6.—There is increased activity visible in the harbor.

The batteries are all in complete