COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE HER...
Wednesday Morning, November 26, 1860.

COTTON—The demand was more general to-day, and the transactions embraced about 3000 bales, chiefly for export purposes, but likewise some to speculators and consumers. We close at the following quotations: Fair, 12½c; good fair, 12c; middling, 11½c; good ordinary, 11c; low ordinary, 10½c; low middling, 10c; middling stained, 9½c.

FREIGHTS—Engagements were more liberal, and we have to report the following: Cotton to Liverpool, 5-32d.; to Havre, 1c.; to Bremen, 1c.; to Hamburg, 1c.; to Amsterdam, 1c.; to Rotterdam, 1c.; to Ghent, 1c.; to Barcelona, 1c.; to Genoa, 1c.; to Trieste, 1c.; to Leghorn, 1c.; to Marseilles, 1c.; to Cette, 1c.; to Ports in the Baltic, 1c.; to Ports in the North of Europe, 1c.; to Ports in the Mediterranean, 1c.; to Ports in the Adriatic, 1c.; to Ports in the Black Sea, 1c.; to Ports in the Gulf of Mexico, 1c.; to Ports in the Gulf of Mexico, 1c.; to Ports in the Gulf of Mexico