EDUCATION.

FOUNDED 1834.....INCORPORATED 1855

NEW ORLEANS
Female Collegiate Institute,
BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL
FOR YOUNG LADIES,
Under the Supervision of Madame ED. LOMBARD,
No. 178 Canal Street,
Between Bourbon and Dauphine streets.

THIS establishment, founded by Mr. and Mrs. the late Professor Lombard, will commence its seventeenth session on MONDAY, the 30th inst.

Mrs. ED. LOMBARD, assisted by her sister, Mme. FLEMMONS LOGRANDE, will not be less vigilant in the performance of their responsibilities.

The services of Professors employed in all the branches, both useful and ornamental, Public, Music and the study of the Bulletin, will be taught exclusively by the Misses Lombard, whose reputation as teachers of music has been so well appreciated by the numerous pupils who have favored them with their confidence.

The French language, the native tongue of these ladies, and the acquirement of which is now indispensable in every education, is taught with the utmost care, and is always in the Institution. Young ladies will therefore find in their preceptors the assistance with these languages every facility possible for perfecting themselves in this study.

This establishment, always so commodious and well conducted, has recently been entirely renovated, with a view to the comfort and health of the pupils.

Mme. LOMBARD respectfully invites parents and friends to call and visit her school, where prospectuses, with all other information which may be desired, can be obtained.

Letters of inquiry will be promptly attended to by the Principal. sept 1

Jefferson Academy,
33.....BOURBON STREET, N. O.....5
Conducted by
G. J. FORD.

THIS establishment, founded in 1836, has long held a high position in public opinion as one of the leading institutions in the South of the United States.

The plan comprises a general and extensive system of education. Pupils are admitted at five or seven years of age, and continue till they are prepared for their future pursuits in life. They are distributed into classes, according to their respective and standard of proficiency.

The premises are, perhaps, the best to be found in the city, with ample space for exercise and recreation, and every convenience for an institution of learning.

The Professors are gentlemen of talent, chosen with great care. Good order reigns in the establishment, and strict attention is paid to the moral conduct and improvement of the pupils.

Preservation of the Sight.

MR. C. DUHAMEL, optician, 56 Rue de Chartres street, opposite the Theatre d'Orleans, has the honor to inform the public that he has just received a fresh invoice of patent Cylindrical Spectacles, from Paris, and Rue Rambuteau, Paris, and others in New Orleans. The only London sight house in the city, he has kept without the least danger to the weakest eyes.

Many of the shortest sighted customers have made a report declaring that the above articles are unchangeably the best for the preservation and improvement of the sight. Their peculiar construction, in the form of spectacles, being equally distributed over the whole surface, instead of resting on the nose, as in the case with spectacles of other construction, the impossibility of the two cylindrical cards makes them feel no scratching, and, being made of transparent pebble, are for
