

NEW ORLEANS,
FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 4, 1862.

MEXICO.

"In every weather still stand fast," as an old proverb has it; it is no less certain than so they do in war. A few months ago, enjoying the blessing of peace, an advance in prosperity unparalleled in my nation, and a large proportion of the people, both men and women, were happy and in full possession of their rights. This was the case when we had the three powers which have combined and stand the three powers which have entered into a combination against Mexico, to assist her in what she has done. Now, we see them; seemingly unquenched, enter upon scenes for which they have been prepared. We have seen them, in all other concerning the welfare of the city, and his ambitions concerning them, after his experience could not be of great value.

Statistics of the Fire Alarms and Police Telegraph.—From June 1st, 1860, to June 1st, 1861.

Total number of alarms of fire:

Claused as follows:

Alarms for Fire..... 1,912

Alarms for Chimneys..... 12

Alarms for Police..... 18

Alarms for other causes..... 1,902

Occurring in the several fire districts, as follows:

Fire District No. 1..... 1,000

..... 200

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100

..... 100