THE VARIETIES THEATRE.—Repetition of Dot.—Dot will be given again to-night, and also the Comedy of Errors. The version of Dot used by Mr. Baker is but that which was introduced a few years ago on the same boards by Mr. John Owens; and this accounts for the differences in many of the situations and much of the text observable between the book and performance of the play and this favorite representation of it as the Varieties. Instead of there are two plays taken from the same source of Dickens. That produced by Mr. C was the work of Mr. Sourcicault, and has reference of the latter's peculiar characteristics as a playwright, in sacrificing much of the pathos and vigor of the story to lovs of spectacular execution and melodramatic effect. The version produced by Mr. Baker does not go that literary length of the story in some respects as an artist, and avoids most of the other's subtle arrangements. Whether these facts are calculated to secure it greater popularity, is a question outside of criticism.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—This familiar and pleasant resort of fashionable entertainment will to-night enjoy abundant attendance and liberal appreciation. In addition to those features which formerly gave crowds, the programme now comprises the brilliant exploit on the tight rope of Mlle Carolista, the female Blondin, and the graceful equitation of Mlle Lehman.

It is announced that to-night will be the last but two of Robert Nicolo's feats on the impose, and also of the appearance of Mlle's famous troupe of educated dogs and monkeys.

We also understand that Mr. Cook, the owner and manager of the dogs and monkeys which have afforded so much amusement at the Academy, will take his benefit to-night. Through him, the canine and simian artists appeal to the gratitude of the public, who can not fail to liberally respond.

A grand soiree performance for the entertainment of ladies and children will be given today, (as usual.

STEAMER PLANET SOLD.—We learn that a telegraphic despatch was received yesterday by the U. S. Quartermaster that the steamer Planet, from Cairo for this port, with 800 colored soldiers, a lot of cattle, and a quantity of produce, was sunk 55 miles above this city, during Monday night. The steamer John Warner was dispatched up to the wreck yesterday with rations, &c., for the troops. We are unable to get further particulars.

Latest from the North.

ARRIVAL OF THE MORNING STAR.

Political and Military News.

FROM MEXICO VIA HAVANA.

FROM SAN DOMINGO VIA HAVANA.

The Latest New York Financial and Commercial.

By the arrival of the steamer Morning Star, Capt. Comstock, we have news from New York to the morning of the 24th. The most of the news by this arrival had been anticipated from the Press.

News from Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, January 23, 1864.—Trains are running regularly between Nashville and Chattanooga.

Colonel McCallum has arrived here with one thousand mechanics and laborers, and the work of rebuilding the railroad to Knoxville will be commenced at once.

Supplies are accumulating and quartermasters commence issuing full rations to the soldiers to-day.

A large number of veteran volunteers have left the army, but the balance of power is maintained by raw recruits from the North and deserters from the South.

Seven hundred recruits came down this morning.

On the Monday last one hundred and fifty rebels deserted, and to-day a squad of fourteen rebels.

The rebel army which holds the position at Dalton is believed to number 30,000 men. The Tennessee and Kentucky troops are compelling the centre under a guard.

It is positively known that the rebel soldiers are killing their mules for subsistence.

Gen Grant came to the front this morning.

Gen Judah has left for Knoxville, to assume command of his old division, the Twenty-third Corps.

Surgeon H. S. Hewitt has been assigned by Gen. Grant Medical Inspector of the Department of Ohio, to report to Gen. Foster in the field.

No demonstrations have recently been made by rebel guerrillas on our front.

FROM HEADQUARTERS ARMY.

Army of the Potomac, January 23.—There was nothing new this morning at Meade's Station, which is near our extreme front, and all is quiet elsewhere along the line.

General Kilpatrick cannot be located. Notwithstanding what others say, there will probably be an early announcement that he is assigned to an important command in another department than the Army of the Potomac.

The Presidency.

ADDRESS OF FIFTY OF MR. LINCOLN IN THE MARYLAND AND PALATINATE LEGISLATURES.

Baltimore, January 23, 1864.—In the Maryland House of Delegates yesterday, Mr. Jones offered a series of resolutions endorsing the administration of Abraham Lincoln, and recommending him for the Presidency.

The resolutions were adopted, and a dialogue ensued denouncing the administration was kept over under the rules.

Mr. Murphy, of Baltimore, submitted a resolution providing for the expulsion of any member using disloyal language.

The Speaker declared this resolution out of order.

Ilion Furnace, January 22.—Among a number of patriotic resolutions before the Legislature one concludes as follows: "That the people still look to Abraham Lincoln as the instrument ordained by Providence to save the country effectually through all its perils, and restore it again to a power in which no element of discord shall be found, and that we do most heartily favor his re-election. This passed the Senate with but five dissenting votes, and the Assembly with only two objecting members.

New York Elections.

The Herald of the 26th, whose reports are to 6 P. M. of the preceding night:

The stock market was ready to-day, and the transactions were large; but the general list showed a small falling off in prices.

Governments were firm. The five-twenties reached 104¾, interest on, and the registered 6's of 1881 sold for 105.

Sterling exchange was dull, and the best bills sold at 170¾.

Cotton was at the Gold Exchange ranged from 96¾ at 9 A. M., to 95⅞, at 6 P. M.

The shipment closed weak at 95⅞ bid and 96¼ asked. The shipments of gold for Europe are comparatively light—usual, $1,000,000.
