

WILL POSTS THE LISTS

Citizens Expected to Report Names of the Missing
Washington, May 21.—Stackers who seek to evade registration for the war army on the day set by President Wilson can be easily detected. A war department statement explains that lists of persons registered will be posted, and all citizens who know of evasions are expected to report them.

In failing to register, says the statement, a citizen "places himself cross-current to the overwhelming sentiment of the country as voiced by its representatives in Congress. He counts doubt upon his courage, commits a misdemeanor and renders himself liable to imprisonment. Persons volunteering to act without compensation as registrars under the selective draft bill were requested in the war department statement to communicate direct with the sheriff for mayor of their home jurisdiction. The department has been flooded with such volunteer offers, which in each case have to be referred back to local authorities.

The statement announced that the pay of registrars not volunteering would be $1 a day, but that compensation for the registration day only would be allowed.

CIVIL WAR WOMAN

"SOLDIER" TELLS STORY
Moscow, Idaho, May 21.—Idaho lays claim to the distinction of having as a resident the only surviving regularly enlisted woman of the Civil War. She is Mrs. Lindol Smith of Moscow, who, though nearing her seventy-fifth anniversary, is hale and hearty and enjoys relating her experiences while in the service of her country.

The present war is of keen interest to Mrs. Smith. Her grandson, Merritt Liguallen of Moscow, is in the American navy, and is training at a California station. Mrs. Smith enlisted in the service of her country through a peculiar circumstance, and it was only after she had appealed to the war governor of Indiana, Levi P. Morton, who suggested the method by which she could enter the service, that she succeeded in getting to the front. Her husband was serving in Company G, Seventy-first regiment, Indiana volunteers, having enlisted from Logansport. Suffering injuries he was sent to a hospital at Gallatin, Tenn.

Mrs. Smith received word her husband was seriously wounded and was anxious to get to his bedside. Permits to go through the lines had been stopped. Governor Morton advised her that by enlisting in the army she might get to her husband. She enlisted and was sent to hospital service and sent to the hospital where her husband lay ill. Mr. Smith recovered and his wife served two years as a nurse in the army. In 1860 she was granted a pension of $12 a month and later $21 a month.

TEXAS LEAGUERS QUIT GAME

Beaumont, Tex., May 21.—Galveston, in competing with the bathing beach, failed to get enough fans out to support Texas league baseball and as two teams had to drop when one dropped, Beaumont elected to be the goal, receiving therefore $2,000 and the right to come back into the league next year with the same team now dropping. The Galveston and Beaumont stars were divided among the other teams and Nye, shortstop, was the only Beaumont player who wasn't grabbed.

A CHANCE TO SHOW

By JACK VEIOCK.
International News Sports Editor.
New York, May 21.—Bunny Brief, who is working on thirty days' trial as the regular first sacker of the Pittsburgh Pirates, should be highly elated over the fact that crack first basemen are scarce. This fact alone presents Bunny back to the major leagues. He was purchased recently from the Salt Lake club by Barney Dreyfus, who was up against it for an initial bagger, and if he shows sufficient hitting and batting ability he will have a regular job with the Pittsburgh club. Otherwise it will be back to the Coast League for Bunny, and another "brief" stay in the majors.

Several years ago Brief was given a tryout with the Browns, but at that time he was very much a stripling, not heavy enough for the job, and he failed to stick. In the Coast League last season Brief had the best year of his career. He finished the season with a batting average of .311 and the title of "home-run king" of his league in tow. He smashed out thirty-three home runs, which is said to be a world's record. The major league record since 1900 show that Gravy Gravy holds the title in the big show with twenty-four, made in 1915.

So the chances of Bunny making good are bright, and if he sticks there will be a great load of worry lifted from Jimmy Callahan's shoulders, for when he failed to land Fred Merkle he was at his wits end for a player to plug up the hole. Brief is trying to fill. So far Brief is doing as well as could be expected, for when he joined the Pirates he had not played in any regular games because he had not yet reported to Salt Lake, owing to illness in his family. A little time should start him right.

Brief's presence in the Pirate line-up fills up the roster of first basemen in the National League with regulars—providing Bunny sticks. In the American League, Clark Griffith has no regular first sacker. He has switched about from one player to another, using Judge and Garrity, a catcher, alternately. Boston, with Hobbitzel and Gainer, also switches players at first base.

Early indications point to a spirited battle among the first sackers of the big leagues for the honor of being classed as the best all-around initial bagman in their respective circuits. Hal Chase, getting away to a slow start at the bat this year, will be bound to pick up as the season advances, and Hal has lost none of his ability as a fielder. Jake Daubert, always a .300 hitter, is not the player he has been touted to be when every angle is considered. Fred Merkle, a good fielder, should hit better than he did last year. Luderus, Jack Miller and Ed Koehn are steady players. In young Holke McGraw has a player of such promise, and if Brief sticks with the Pirates, both he and Holke have opportunity before them.

In the American League, Stuffy McInnis and George Sizer are staging a pretty battle for both batting and fielding honors. That one will be the best first sacker in the American League when the season closes is practically certain. Yet the struggle is an interesting one to watch, and to date McInnis' wonderful hitting has been an advantage to him.

George V. Bonbag, the old running champion, has taken up pedestrianism, and those who have been watching his efforts in training say that he looms up as formidable rival for world's champion George Goulding of Canada. His entry in the walking game, however, will not be his first attempt in this line, for he won the walking title at the Olympic games at Athens in 1906, though his entry in that event was made at the eleventh hour.

Bonbag retired from the marathon field when Hannes Kohlenmann invaded this country, and it was understood at the time that he would shun all athletic contests. That was three years ago. But the old fever came back to him with the arrival of spring weather and he got on the cinders at Travers Island, N. Y., and took up walking. He developed form which encouraged him to continue practicing, and he is expected to enter some of the more important events scheduled for the coming summer.

MORGAN FLEET STILL SAILS

I. C. C. Finds No Impropriety in Ownership by S. P.
Washington, April 21.—The Southern Pacific railway was authorized Saturday by the Interstate Commerce Commission to continue in possession and operation of its fleet of merchant steamers plying between New York, New Orleans and Galveston. The railroad applied to the commission for such authority more than two years ago. Under the Panama canal act the railroad would have had to dispose of its vessels unless it could show that their possession and operation neither excluded, prevented nor reduced competition by water routes or was in restraint of trade or against the public interest.
